BIG OUTLAY BUT NO INCOME

Reports Under Corrupt Practices Act Must be in Saturday

Under the corrupt practices act, candidates for office in Allen county and the district, required to make reports of receipts and expenditures in aid of their candidacy, have only until Saturday evening to comply with the law the ten day limit closing at that time.

None of those who have filed reports received any money from others for their campaign, according to the reports filed.

G. O. P. REPORTS

John W. Thompson, Republican candidate for commissioner, spent more than any other candidate on his party ticket for any office. His report shows $437.30. Thompson was elected.

Eugene Lippincott, successful candidate for prosecuting attorney, was a close second, with $400.27.

Edmund C. Dempster spent $219.09 in an attempt to annex the commission judgeship, but he didn't land.

Jasper L. Cochran paid $151.50 for the privilege of going back to the Legislature for two years.

Walter W. Craig spent $88.75 to be elected as commissioner a third time. A. J. Gray, also elected commissioner, spent $193.10.

Harry E. Betkins will get his money back as he was elected treasurer. He spent $216.95.

Glen Wallace lost out for clerk and paid $163.87 for it.

Walter T. Cox for surveyor at a cost of $153.60.

Chas. R. Gordon spent $116.15 in a vain effort to retire Recorder Guy Custer.

H. B. Crosson, who tried to get Sheriff Baxter's job, but failed, spent the least, $61.90.

WHAT DEMOCRATS SPENT

Ed C. Becker, successful Democratic candidate for judge of the common pleas court, reports expenditures of $457.45.

Edgar V. Smith, defeated for surveyor, expended $311.50.

Guy Custer for recorder, a winner, paid out $146.60.

N. W. Bessler, defeated for county treasurer, spent $305.

J. A. Miller, a loser for commissioner, reported expense of $86.

Sheriff Baxter, returned to office, spent $241.50.

Robert A. Hefner, for Representative, not elected, expended $76.

A. J. Zuber, defeated for commissioner, paid out $54.

HUNGER STRIKE IS CALLED OFF

Fast of Nine Prisoners in Cork Jail Declared Ended

CORK — (By Associated Press) — The hunger strike of the nine Irish prisoners in the Cork Jail was called off Friday, the ninety-fourth day of the strike.

This was revealed when a message received by Lord Mayor O'Callaghan from Arthur Griffiths, founder of the Sinn Féin organization, was given out.

"I am of the opinion," read the message, "that our countrymen in the Cork prison have sufficiently proved their devotion and fidelity and that they should now, as they were prepared to do for Ireland, begin again to live for her."

This message has been transmitted to the nine surviving hunger strikers in the jail.

The men were reported in a deplorably low state. The announcement of the receipt of the Griffiths letter closely followed the arrival of Bishop Cohan of Cork that there be a cessation of the strike which he declared would only be a waste of lives.

HOME BREW DOOMED

MAYOR TO CLAMP DOWN LID

Ruling of Federal Department Expected Here Soon

MALT AND HOP SALE HEAVY

Police Will Enforce Mandate—Court Test Promised

Home brewers in Lima may expect a rude jolt in the near future, it appeared Friday.

Ruling of the federal prohibition agents that hops and malt cannot legally be sold to anyone except bakers and confectioners is the basis of the report that officials in Lima will be instructed to put the lid on these sales as soon as the text of the ruling is received.

Mayor F. A. Burkhardt Friday said that he would issue orders that home brew ingredients banned under federal ruling must be stopped here as soon as he gets the official notice. This work will be carried out thru the police department, he said.

SALE IN HEAVY HERE

The sale of these ingredients, the basis of home brew beer, has been large in Lima since the advent of prohibition. It is expected, many dealers have done a big business, many trying their hands at making stuff to help dispel gloom. Some declare they have become proficients, so much so that prohibition worries them not.

Mayor Burkhardt said Friday that this was one of the matters he discussed with state federal authorities a few days ago. He said the state agent had not received the ruling, but that it is expected soon. Announcement was made Friday in Washington that the ban would be put on these sales soon. Later advice say the matter will be tested out in the courts. Meanwhile, however, those who have enjoyed the manufacture of home brew will be forced to desist, it is declared.

WELL OPENED IN HUNT FOR BODY

New Hampshire Farmer is Accused of Killing Wife

LANGDON, N. H. — (By Associated Press) — An abandoned well on the farm of William B. Whitney, which has been filled with rock and debris, was reopened Friday by county authorities in a search for the body of Whitney's second wife. The search was ordered by County Sheriff Henry N. Hurd, as a result of a declaration made to him by John Whitney, 15-year-old son of William B. Whitney by a former marriage, that he saw his father strike down his second wife in their home four years ago, take her body to the hay mow, and later bury it in the well.

W. B. Whitney disappeared from town on October 30, after eight years of residence here in which he gained a reputation as a solid citizen. In his wake came bankruptcy petitions against him, and charges that he had defrauded mortgages on his home. With the departure of the father, his son John went to the county authorities with the story which he said he had kept under threat of death by his parent.

STORY OF BEATING

On the night of June 30, 1916, Whitney and wife went to a lecture in the neighboring town of Alstead, returning late. John told the county solicitor that he was awakened in his bed over the kitchen by a dispute and looked thru the hot air register into the room below. He said he saw his father grasp a stick of the wood and beat his stepmother with it.

The woman was apparently killed by the repeated blows, the boy said, adding that he saw his father take the body out of the house to the hay mow in the barn. There, according to his story, it lay for several days, before Whitney prepared the well to bury it. Then he placed the body in the old water hole, threw on top of it stones gathered for the purpose and the debris of the farm yard, and told his son that he ever told any person what had been done he would kill him, the boy said.

AKRON MAN, ON WAY TO CHURCH, KILLED BY AUTO; DRIVER HELD BY POLICE

AKRON — K. H. Oyler is being held on a charge of manslaughter here, following a speeding accident Thursday night. Oyler, according to the sheriff, was attempting to race Deputy R. E. Button to avoid arrest for speeding.

Four persons stepped out into the street to stop a car and Oyler's heavy machine struck them. E. Micklen, married and father of six children, died on the way to a hospital with a fractured skull and crushed chest and Lloyd Denning, father of two children, suffered a broken leg. Micklen, according to witnesses, was on his way to St. Andrew's church for choir practice, when the accident happened.

OHIO BANK ROBBED BY DAYLIGHT

Kingston Institution Swept of Valuables by Bandits

BOLTS TURNED ON EMPLOYEES

Clerks Looked in Directors Room As Gang Works

CIRCLEVILLE, O. — (By United Press) — Four unmasked automobile bandits held up the First National Bank at Kingston, ten miles south of here at 10:30 a. m., Friday, and escaped with $4,000 in currency. Between $150,000 and $200,000 in stocks and bonds, and a quantity of Liberty bonds, the value of which is uncertain according to reports received here.

The bandits drove up in front of the bank in a large green touring car with white wire wheels. Three of the men left the car and entered the bank, the fourth man remaining at the steering wheel.

Entering the bank, they drew revolvers and ordered the three clerks — one man and two women — on duty, into a directors' room, then locked them in.

The men then proceeded to loot the vault, which was standing open. After they had taken everything of value in sight they left and sped away in their automobile toward Columbus, where they were believed to have taken refuge.

The robbers were described as being from 19 to 21 years old and were unmasked.

GERMANY NOT TO BE ADMITTED

France Will Bar Her Entry Into Nation League

PARIS — (By Associated Press) — The French government is unalterably opposed to the admission of Germany to the league of nations at this time, it was stated at the foreign office Friday. Some "drastic action" would be a consequence if the league voted to admit Germany, it was intimated.

The foreign office said there had been conversations with Great Britain on the subject, and that the British who had been inclined to favor German membership in the league, now had accepted the French viewpoint, allowing the matter to rest for the present.

Inasmuch as Germany has not applied for league membership, it is considered unlikely there will be any effort with promise of success to get the assembly in Geneva to act favorably on the question of Germany's admission at this time.

The French hold that Germany must prove her intention to fulfill the terms of the peace treaty and live peacefully with her neighbors before seeking membership, and they contend there has not yet been time for them to become convinced regarding Germany's attitude along these lines.

The possibility of the admission of Austria, Hungary and Bulgaria is regarded in a different light by the French who have indicated they are not opposed to membership for these nations, as it is considered they have shown good faith.

G. O. P. WAR BREAKS OUT AFRESH

Glen Wallace May Not be Commissioners' Clerk, After All

Sparks threaten to fly from the office of the board of county commissioners. Since A. J. Gray replaced Minor Crossley as a member of the board, making it Republican two to one, with Gray and Walter Craig for the G. O. P. and James MacKenzie as the Democratic member, all has not been peace and harmony, it would seem, according to rumors that fill the air.

ENDORSEMENT MAY SWITCH

Gray is For Wallace and Craig Wants Neuffer, Claim is Made

With Wallace holding the endorsement of the Republican county executive committee and favored by Gray as the clerk of the board, it is common report among the know-nothing ones that Walter Craig, Republican holdover member, is strong for Herbert F. Neuffer for the place. Neuffer was clerk of the board only a few weeks when the death of James Neuffer occurred and he lost his place after Minor Crossley was appointed, changing the political complexion of the commissioners' office.

At any rate, whether the rumors of a threatened rift in the G. O. P. forces is true or not, Bernie Halloran is still on the job as clerk. He is ready to move, any time the other fellow is ready, but that he has been Republican since Tuesday, and Bernie hasn't been ordered to vacate.

NEUFFER'S CLAIM

Mr. Neuffer informed a Lima News reporter Thursday that he expected to secure the endorsement of the Republican executive committee for the place; in fact, that he already has the endorsement of all of the members save that of Colonel Gale. Wallace is sitting tight, they say, and the disturbance that started with the organization meeting of the Republican committee before the election threatens to again become a volcano.

The waters were still fairly Friday morning with an adjustment of the situation in sight. It is believed that the executive committee endorsement of Wallace will stand.

James MacKenzie, the Democratic member of the board, will be required to decide whether he'll support the choice of Gray or the choice of Craig, wash his hands of the whole affair.

TAKES OWN LIFE

Ohio World War Veteran Shoots Self to Death

COLUMBUS — (By Associated Press) — Charles Hinger, 26, of Mt. Vernon, world war veteran, entered the home of Mrs. Blamaj where he formerly roomed, Thursday night, shouting:

"I'm disgusted with the whole world." Drawing a gun from his pocket he fired two shots across the room, and with the words:

"I'm going to end it all," sent two bullets into his body just below the heart. He fell to the floor and died on the way to a hospital. Hinger is said to have been crazed by drink.

AUDITOR'S DATA SHOWS HEAVY DEFICIENCIES IN ALL CITIES OF OHIO

City Auditor P. L. Rupert assembled figures Friday, on a chart, for the information of the citizens meeting called for Friday evening at the council chamber to devise ways and means for meeting a financial deficiency that faces the city in 1921. Lima's deficiency, after the budget commission completed its job of slicing, will be $63,500. The chart shows that there has been no extraordinary extravagance in Lima's municipal affairs, in comparison with other cities of the state, all of which show shortages for next year, for the same reason that Lima is financially embarrassed, and all of them have a greater total deficiency than this city.

POSTMASTER'S RIGHT TO DICTATE DRESS IS CHALLENGED BY WOMEN

DETROIT, Mich. — Postmaster Nagel has decreed that all women employed by the postoffice while on duty, must wear gray chamois aprons beginning December 1. As a result of the edict, the women have issued a challenge to the postmaster's right to dictate their style of dress.

Nagel maintains that by wearing gray dress, rivalry will be curbed, efficiency promoted, and morals protected.

A mass meeting will be held, probably Saturday, when all postal employees will be asked to sign a protest. The women asserted they will carry their protest to Washington if the order is enforced.

PROBE IN BOMB PLOT RENEWED

Swann to Sift New York Evening World's Claim

NEW CLUES ARE UNEARTHED

"Death Wagon" in Wall-St. Explosion is Traced

NEW YORK — (By Associated Press) — District Attorney Edward Swann planned Friday to question all of the men mentioned in the "Evening World" Thursday in its "solution" of the Wall-st. explosion here on September 16, the motive of which was declared by the newspaper to have been revenge on the part of members of a house wrecking union against a rival organization, headed by Robert P. Brindell, a central figure in the "building trust" investigation now under way here.

The publication of the "Evening World" analysis of the tragedy that resulted in loss of life to thirty-nine persons and injury to several hundred, was also brought forth other theories of its origin Friday from the police and department of justice officials.

STATEMENTS CONFLICT

Mr. Swann said he was particularly anxious to question Raymond Clark, who was a foreman on the house-wrecking job diagonally opposite the scene of the explosion and who was quoted at length in Thursday's "Evening World" article. He said Clark's statement to the newspaper was at variance with a previous statement made by him to Assistant District Attorney Alfred E. Talley, shortly after the explosion.

Mr. Swann wished, he said, to ascertain whether Clark had made either of the two statements under intimidation.

NEW CLUES FOUND

The "Evening World" story placed blame on individual members of a house-wrecking union whose rival organization, under the leadership of Brindell, had superintended them on the house-wrecking job at the corner of Wall and Broad-sts. The story claimed that the explosion was planned by these men in retaliation to what they considered unfair advantage taken by the Brindell workers.

Coincidentally with the "Evening World" story came the announcement from Acting Inspector Connelley, head of the detective bureau, that the identity of the farrier who shot the horse which drew the explosives laden wagon into the financial district had been established, as well as that of the person who took the horse to the shed. Search for this man, who seems to have vanished since the explosion, is being made.

OFFICIAL FIGURES AT LAST ON 4TH DISTRICT RACE FOR CONGRESS

Miami-co was the last to come under the wire with official figures on the result of the November 2 election race between B. F. Welty and John L. Cable, Lima men, for preference for Congress.

The official vote from Miami-co was received Friday morning at the office of the Allen-co board of elections, the "clearing house" for district contests. The totals:

	Welty	Cable
Allen-co	12,177	12,229
Aurialize-co	6,115	6,211
Darke-co	8,937	8,815
Merceer-co	4,976	4,614
Shelby-co	5,921	5,084
Totals	45,492	50,473
Cable's majority		4,984

The board of election officials found a discrepancy of 100 votes in Aurialize-co in favor of T. M. Berry for state senator, his vote in that county being 4,891 instead of 4,791. However, the change does not change the general result in favor of Claron L. Shafer.

HAITI CHIEF TALKS ON VIOLENCE

President Quizzed As to Charges Against U. S. Marines

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti — (By Associated Press) — Sudre Dartiguenave, president of the Republic of Haiti, testifying Friday before the naval board of inquiry, declared he had no official knowledge of the charge of indiscriminate killing of natives by United States Marines. Speaking thru an interpreter, the president said he was without means of proving the existence of cases of homicide or violence that may have been committed by the marines, adding:

"They have been accused by public clamor."

COURT ADJOURNS

M. Dartiguenave was the only witness testifying, and after he had left the chair, Judge Advocate Dyer announced he had no further witnesses or evidence. The court then adjourned to reassemble upon call by Admiral Henry T. Mayo, president of the board of inquiry, and it is not probable another session will be held before next week.

The Haitian president, answering a direct question if he had knowledge regarding alleged indiscriminate killings said:

"Officially, no. I have heard of regrettable acts perpetrated at Hinche, St. Marc, Croixes, Doguets, Grande Ravine du Nord, Mirabelais and Les Cayons."

FEARED MARTIAL LAW

"When people have been repressed for not having kept the government informed of all that was being said, the answer, rightly or wrongly, has been they were afraid of being caught by martial law. Victims of their passions have never brought their grievances to me because leaders of the revolution have them to understand there was no Haitian chief of state."

Asked if he had knowledge of any cases where marines who had been accused had not been tried, the president said:

"Not having had to report any acts of violence or oppression, I had no interest in finding if persons engaged in the naval service who might be guilty of such acts had been tried by the naval court. My answer to these questions show I had no means at my disposal to prove the existence of cases of homicide or violence that may have been committed by marines."

PLANE'S CREW IS BELIEVED LOST

Great Lakes Searched for Machine and Three Men

GREAT LAKES, Ill. — (By United Press) — Fleet of airplanes was to continue the search Friday for the missing navy seaplane S-2-L, which left here Wednesday morning with a crew of three aboard and was last seen Wednesday afternoon riding the waves, 12 miles off Sheboygan, Wis. The airplanes were to leave here and comb Lake Michigan shores as far as Manitowish, Wis.

Hope that any of the crew have survived was abandoned by experienced seamen Friday. They say it would have been impossible for the plane to have stayed afloat in the swirling snowstorm and 70-mile wind which roughened the waters Thursday night. A revenue cutter and a submarine chaser were still at work, along the shore Friday, searching for a trace of the missing plane. They are in touch with wireless shore stations.

The S-2-L was commanded by Ensign E. M. Clarke, of Peoria, Ill. Clarke is the son of a New York mail carrier, but was employed in Peoria. He was using two-weeks' vacation to take a course for reserve officers at the naval training station here.

AROMA FROM CARGO OF 'KETCHUP' REVEALS BIG STOCK OF WHISKEY

CLEVELAND. — "Ketchup" never looked like this—never smelled like this, and—by gosh, never tasted like this," one railroad detective said to another, as he tasted of a bottle, labelled ketchup, taken from a freight car here Friday.

Further search revealed the entire stock of bottles packed in cases or sacks contained whiskey. The aroma from several broken bottles attracted the officers and resulted in the discovery of $20,000 worth of whiskey.

OPPOSITION IS LED BY COUNCILMEN

Solution Not Reached Friday—Meeting Tuesday Called

WOMEN TAKING UP MATTER

Curtin Says Brownell's Plan Acceptable to Him

Whether or not Lima and surrounding towns will have a supply of natural gas this winter was undecided Friday. Members of the gas committee representing the city, citizens and Chamber of Commerce, came near killing the proposition for ever at their meeting Thursday night, the attack being led by two men, city councilmen.

This action was forestalled by other members of the committee, which had met to hear the report of E. F. Brownell, consulting engineer employed by the city and Chamber of Commerce to investigate the gas situation.

The action which would have definitely killed the plan, urged by Brownell, was averted by the councilmen who wanted the expert hired. Their plan was to allow the report and insist that the Lima company be held to its old contract for gas distribution.

MEET AGAIN TUESDAY

Another meeting will be held next Tuesday at which time the matter will again be taken up. This is one day after the Medina Gas & Fuel Co. has announced it will shut off gas if satisfactory arrangements cannot be made.

E. R. Curtin, president of the Lima Natural Gas Co., said Friday that his company would accept the plan proposed by the city's engineer for gas distribution for the next two years. This, as announced in The Lima News Thursday provides for a service-out cost, starting with gas at $1 and revising the rates every four or six months; allowing the company a net return of 8 per cent when a per cent for depreciation.

Curtin said Friday, "When we understood that Mr. Brownell was coming to make an investigation we had one of our engineers and one of our most competent engineers in the country got our affairs in shape so we could give him any and every material he desired for his investigation. We felt it our duty to throw everything open in order that the citizens might know the conditions under which the gas company is operating and its real condition."

"The gas company some weeks before had been making out of the supply of gas and as I demanded an investigation I wanted it to be as thorough as possible."

BOOKS ARE OPENED

"When Mr. Brownell arrived we told him in the presence of Mr. Lincoln, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, that every phase of our business was open to him for inspection and any data, reports, books, maps or any other material in our possession could be had by him for his work."

"We went back into the records as far as he liked, which was over a period of 10 years, and in so doing found that the Lima Natural Gas Co. had never made a dollar out of the business in all that time, but had built a plant here from $550,000 to $3,400,000 to duplicate today."

"We realized, however, that to take this figure for calculating a return would make the price of gas prohibitive and we could not sell it. For that reason we are willing to agree to the hypothetical valuation of $1,300,000 fixed by Mr. Brownell."

Councilman A. W. Tavin and ENIS Jones, who have led the opposition to any new gas company, refused to discuss the matter Friday.

WOMEN INTERESTED

It is understood that scores of women from all parts of the city have been calling these councilmen and other members of the committee, insisting that they do something to insure a gas supply this winter. The matter was taken up Friday afternoon by a large number of club women and fully explained. It is probable that some concerted action will be taken.

Asked concerning a guarantee of gas pressure, President Curtin Friday said: "No company in the United States today guarantees any fixed pressure on natural gas. I have felt and believe, however, that we could give a guarantee in this way: Every company in the business to sell as much gas as possible. When the committee took up this matter I asked that we be allowed to limit the consumption in a way which I believe would guarantee a pressure of at least two ounces."

"Under the cost-plus plan the committee would have the right to limit the amount we could sell. For instance, if we could maintain a two or two and a half ounce pressure with a maximum consumption per consumer of 10,000 cubic feet, that would insure an even and sufficient pressure. If that maximum was found to be too high, then the committee could lower it to a place where we could maintain the pressure."

RATES WOULD GO DOWN

"On the other hand if the Medina company found it could supply greater quantity of gas the maximum

TAKE WHISKY TRIO TO TOLEDO

U. S. Marshal Bartley Here For LaDolle, Dwyer and Morton

Federal authorities arrived in Lima Thursday night from Toledo and will return with the three whiskey runners captured on Bellefontaine-ave Wednesday, when local police arrested them with a cargo of Kentucky whiskey in a Springfield automobile. United States Marshal Bartley and assistants came after the men.

The men, giving their names as Frank LaDolle, 32, and James Dwyer, 23, both of Detroit, and Harry Morton, 26, of Cleveland, are now facing federal prosecution after being unable to pay their fines of $500 each assessed by Judge Jackson in Criminal court a few hours after their arrest.

A thorough investigation of their cases will be made by the federal officers to ascertain if they are connected with a whiskey ring in operation through the western portion of Ohio from Cincinnati to Toledo. The brand of whiskey taken from the captured auto is a new one to federal officers. They say it has appeared recently in bootleg markets and is known to be originating somewhere in the eastern part of Kentucky.

All three of the whiskey runners deny that they brought the liquor from Kentucky themselves which leads police to believe that they are the trio which is reported to have held up and robbed an automobile loaded with contraband whiskey near Springfield early the same morning they were arrested here.

The booze goes to Toledo as evidence.

CABARET ARTISTS FOR MEETING OF LIONS CLUB

Two cabaret artists have been secured for the big dinner meeting of the Lima Lions Club at the Norval Friday evening. Group singing in celebration of Armistice Day will also be a feature.

Indications point to a large attendance and an invitation has been extended to business men who are interested in the newly organized club of Lions to be present.

In addition to delegations from nearby cities Dr. Beatty, the state president is bringing a large delegation from the Dayton Club. Dinner will be served promptly at 6:30.

EAST SIDE FOLKS ENJOY FREE MOVING PICTURES

Residents of the East Side were treated to a free moving picture show Thursday night at the Lincoln Park Fire Department. The program consisted of an industrial and scenic film and a Bryant Washburn comedy, "Rule Number 662."

Mr. Biddle, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., who was in charge of this entertainment, announced that the same pictures will be shown at Fire station No. 6, S. Main and Lafayette-ave., next Thursday evening.

Efforts are being made by this form of entertainment, which is given every Thursday night, to bring about assemblies of interested citizens and thus to promote fellowship in the community.

REDUCE PRESSURE ON CITY LINES

Precaution Taken to Conserve Water Supply

Mayor Burkhardt and Safety Director McClam were worried last night concerning the possibility of a water famine in Lima, due to the fact that there has been no stage of water in Ottawa river in the past four months this would permit of the reservoirs being filled.

"Lima is using four and a half million gallons of water a day," Mayor Burkhardt said Friday "and in view of the fact that there is only about 37 per cent of capacity in storage, the demand is rapidly diminishing the supply."

In June there is 600 million gallons impounded, but at present only 200 million gallons, due to lack of rain and the big pump being idle. Twenty millions of this amount is not available, as it is below the pump line in case the reservoirs should be emptied. During the past six months the amount of water used in Lima exceeded the total for any similar previous period in the history of the city.

To avoid against a famine becoming a condition, the pressure has been reduced from 4 1/2 pounds to 2 1/2 and 3 pounds every night during the past two weeks. This helps considerably, as leaks are not so pronounced under low pressure. It is necessary to make the supply hold out until a stage of water is had in the river, so that the pumps can be started the pressure will be reduced day and night, Mayor Burkhardt stated.

The new reservoir, Lima Lake, had 112 million gallons in storage by June, but the run-off has been completed to a point that will make it possible to store 300 million gallons when the river affords the water. A protracted freezeup will produce a very menacing condition in connection with the water supply.

GREEK IS FINED

Shoe Shiner Admits Making Dispensory of Stand

Gus Scott, 36, a Greek shoe shiner, was fined $500 and costs by Judge Emmett Jackson in criminal court Friday for selling whiskey from his bootblack stand at the south side of the public square.

Scott was arrested by federal authorities. He told the court that he and his brother had purchased six quarts of whiskey for $50.

In fining the Greek the limit, Judge Jackson stated that he was "thru fooling with bootleggers" and that from now on all brought before him will not get off with the minimum penalty.

Scott paid his fine. J. E. Gose, 506 Elmwood-apt., who was arrested on ad trunk charge last month, failed to appear for the third time in criminal court Friday and his bond of $25 was ordered forfeited by Judge Jackson.

VERDICT AGAINST CONTRACTORS

Jury Awards Damages in Case of Death of Charles Campbell

S. D. Campbell, administrator of the estate of his five-year-old son, Charles Edward Campbell, was given a judgment of $2,266.67 against H. L. DeWitt, A. G. Orr and Howard E. Miller, in common pleas court, late Thursday afternoon.

The men were contractors for the new Sigma theatre building, Charles Edward Campbell lost his life on March 22, at the new building while playing there late in the evening with several companions.

The child suffered a fractured skull when he fell 30 feet from the top of the building.

In the petition, his father charged negligence of the theatre company, the contractors and the Lima Cut Stone company, and sued for $12,000 damages. He charged negligence of the contractors in leaving open and unguarded a spiral stairway which led to the top of the building and allowing an opening from the building into the alley to remain open.

The jury deliberated several hours in the case, before arriving at a decision. No verdict was brought against the theatre company.

DELAY OF PEACE HALTS SUIT

Papers In Divorce Action Cannot Be Served on Defendant

Because Germany has no consuls in this country, the divorce petition of Albert Ufer against Margaret De-Yong Ufer, may go unheeded for some months to come.

According to Mrs. F. Clem, county clerk of courts, when service on defendants must go to another country the papers must pass thru the hands of consuls, stationed in the United States.

Germany has established no such relations and must delay the divorce. Ufer and his wife were married in Ransbach, Germany, in August, 1919. He charges she refuses to come to this country to share a home with him, altho he has repeatedly asked her to do so and provided funds for her passage.

He also charges she represented to him, at the time of their marriage, she was a widow and the mother of a child in lawful wedlock, but that after the ceremony, she told him the name of the child's father was unknown to her. Ufer says the announcement caused him great mental anguish and humiliation.

COMMERCIAL HAULERS MEET AT COLUMBUS

Other speakers include K. G. Mengert, Highways Transport Association, Toledo; E. J. Shover, Ohio Automobile Trades Association, E. A. Malley, Jr., Toledo; O. R. Collins, national secretary, Los Angeles, Calif.; E. W. Davis, Cleveland; Thomas Snyder, Indianapolis, and Judge Ralph R. Sanborn, counsel, National Association, Cleveland.

Representatives from associations at Cleveland, Toledo, Akron, Canton and Mansfield are expected. William H. Kutschback, Columbus, is president of the Ohio division of the national body.

50 HENS LAY OVER 600 EGGS A MONTH

Henry P. Steinforth, 2401 Parade St., Erie, Pa., had used Pratt's Poultry Regulator for nearly 12 years, but was induced to try one of the highly advertised tonic tablets. He is the result in his own words: "I used 2 packages, giving it a thorough trial, with very unsatisfactory results. Started using 'Pratt's' again and in a short time my hens were laying 50 to 60 eggs every day. I will never again be induced, by catchy advertisements, to use any other tonic than 'Pratt's' because 'Pratt's Poultry Regulator' has never failed me." First class dealers everywhere.

GERMAN WORKERS SEIZE PLANTS

Troops Ready for Action as Factories Are Taken

PLAN IN ITALY FOLLOWED

General Strike Thruout the Country is Urged

BERLIN — (By United Press.)—German workers seized a metal factory here and extinguished the fires. Other factories were invaded simultaneously.

Police surrounded the factory, planning an attack to dislodge the strikers.

Other workers took possession of a gas plant on the north side of Berlin, establishing a soviet there, police reported.

The seizure of the metal factory was evidently carried out by the workers in emulation of the Italian strikers who captured and held plants in Italy during the recent labor disturbance there.

This was the first instance of anything of the kind in Germany and the government immediately rushed measures for meeting the new menace.

TROOPS HELD READY

Police reserves and detachments of troops were held in readiness for action in event that the seizure of factories should result in fighting, or develop into another Spartacist outbreak.

Agitators were reported invading plants where there had been no difficulties, endeavoring to urge workers to join a general strike.

The general strike is a scheme to negotiate, planned by radical workers, who set as a condition when electrical workers walked out, demoralizing transportation and industries dependent upon electrical power and light.

The electrical workers appeared to be weakened, but urged on by the agitators.

GOVERNMENT INTERPOSES

The government interposed with an ultimatum that electrical plants would be operated by the government if the men did not return at once.

To carry out this project, large staffs of students and experts were mobilized with a view of crushing the strike.

The government ultimatum expired Wednesday night and the government was to begin operation of the plants Thursday.

Apparently seeing defeat of their original plans, the radical leaders hastened to precipitate action. The metal workers urged into taking possession of some factories. The men assumed control of the buildings, barring the owners and executives. No attempt was made to operate as in Italy, but fires were damped and production ceased.

The Palace of Darkened Windows

BY MARY HASTINGS BRADLEY

Billy shuffled the postcards with absent hands and stared down at them with unseeing eyes. She was gone—and the Captain was not with her! That much at least was gain. And the fellow was here sick from his shot hand, apparently. "I hope you're in," he said between his teeth.

"You are pleased with me, sir?" the Imp was demanding. "You are glad of so much clever boy? And you give me that money now to give that girl? I make her most honest promise—and you see, sir, I am very honest boy. I tell you all I know and I ask nothing of price yet. I know that you are honest American man."

At that Billy came out of his brown study and praised the tattered little Imp with hearty earnestness. He saw no reason to doubt the boy's story. If he had been trying to invent something in order to make capital out of him he would hardly have invented that story of Arlee's departure, for that put an immediate end to further remunerative investigations in the palace. Of course Billy might be mistaken, and the boy might be mistaken, but one had to leave something to probabilities. He was very generous with the boy, and the droll little brown face was lined with grins. Most naively he brought the American would not reveal the extent of his donations to Mohammed, the one-eyed man, as the boys had promised their employer a just one-half.

It was the first laugh Billy had enjoyed in a long time. His spirits were vastly lightened by the news that Arlee was out of the palace where she Captain was staying. Fritzi had optimistically informed him that the Turk's courtship could be made most lengthy, but that had been a sadly slender hope, the picture of Arlee playing such a fearful game was simply horrible to him. So his relief at her departure was intense, altho it complicated more and more the hope of speedy rescue.

For where was she now? In Cairo? In some of the outlying villages? He felt swamped by the number of things were to be found where this big gray motor went so early on Sunday—surely there were people who had remarked it if they could only be found and induced to talk! And he must find where the Captain had other home or palace where he would be likely to hide a girl. And he must find out where the Captain was every instant of the day and night.

That was the most important thing of all. For the Captain unless delayed by extreme illness, or held back by a caution which Billy judged was foreign to his nature, would not wait long before he joined Arlee. He had evidently stayed behind for some review of his troops and also to be an courier of whatever stir would result from Fritzi Baroff's reappearance in the world, and be on hand to disarm whatever further suspicions would result from it. The lights in the room that last night he used look of the room, puzzled Billy, but he concluded that the Captain liked the room and there was a good deal in that imagination whatever.

So back to the hotel went Billy to enter upon a period of waiting that frayed his nerves to an utter frazzle. Inaction was horrible to him, and now it was inevitable. He must wait for word from that agile web of little spies which the one-eyed man was weaving about the Captain's palace, and be ready to instigate whenever the word came.

He slept with his clothes on that Monday night, but he slept heavily for he was tired and his arm was no longer painful. The tear of wound he called a scratch was healing swiftly.

Tuesday morning passed in the same maddening suspense. Captain Kerissen rode out that morning but only to the parade ground, where he took part in a review with his troops. It was noticed that his right hand was bandaged, but the injury could not have been severe for his thumb was free from the bandage and he occasionally used that hand upon the reins. It was the bright eyes of the Imp that were sure of that.

In the afternoon the Captain went again to the barracks and then to the palace of one of the colonels in his regiment. Then he went home. Utterly disgusted with this waiting game Billy began to dress for dinner. All lathered for a shave he stood testing his razor on a hair when his unlocked door was violently opened and a panting little figure darted across to him. It was the Imp.

"Sir, he goes, he goes upon the minute," he panted out. "He is in the station. Quick!"

Like a streak of lathered lightning Billy went for his clothes. A cut-throat could have been no more active. He jerked up his suspenders; he jerked on a shirt; he jerked on a coat; he was wiping his face as he dashed thru the halls and down the stairs. No fit had opened enough for his descent. At the desk he found some gold pieces at the clerk, cried something about being called out of the city, and asked to have his room kept; then he was down the steps and into the carriage that the Imp had magically summoned.

The drive to the station was a series of escapes. Between jumps the Imp gasped out the rest of the story. The Captain had ridden out in the automobile. The Imp had given chase and so had the one-eyed man, also on guard, and by dint of running for dear life they had kept the motor in sight until the crowded city streets were reached and a series of delays enabled them to catch up with it. As soon as they saw the motor stop before the station the boy had rushed for Billy while the Arab remained to shadow the Captain and learn his destination.

They themselves were at the station now, and Billy was still tying his cravat. Now they jumped down and pressed thru the confusion, dodging dragons, porters, drivers and hotel runners and making a vigorous way past hurrying travelers and thru bewildered blockades of tourists parties. Suddenly over the hobbling heads they saw the face they sought. A single eye glared significance upon them. An uplifted hand beckoned furiously.

"Assout!" whispered the one-eyed man as Billy reached him. "Assout. That one goes to Assout on the night express."

"My ticket, 606 & ticket for me?"

Upturned palms bespoke the absence of ticket and the Arab's deep regret. "The price was much, I waited."

Billy was off. There was no chance of his getting past that stolid guard without a ticket and he charged toward the seller's window, where a line of natives was forming for another train.

"Stut!" he shouted over their heads, and scattering silver and smiles and apologies he crowded past the motley line to the window and fairly snatched the miles of green ticket from the Copt's quick fingers.

He was the last man thru the gate, and as he darted thru the clicking of compartment doors was heard with parting cries of guard and the shouts of dragons and porters. It was a train de luxe where the sleep sections had long been reserved, but to accommodate the crowded travel ordinary compartments had been added at the last minute, and it was at one of these that Billy grasped, as the wheels were moving faster and faster. A gold piece caused a guard to unlock the first compartment door, altho it said, "Dames Seules," and "Ladies Only" in large letters.

It was not a corridor train and the compartment was already filled, and as Billy wormed his way, not into the nearest corner, for that was not yielded to him, but into the modicum of space accorded between two stout and glaringly grudging matrons, he became aware from the hostile stares that his entrance had not been solitary.

Between his legs the Imp was coiling.

"I make a sneak with you," the boy whispered. "I say I your dragon-man," sir. You will be glad. You need such bright boy in Assout."

Billy thought it highly probable that he would. But the ladies neither needed nor desired him now, and ringed in by feminine disgust the two scorned intruders sat silent hour after hour while the train went rushing south thru the increasing darkness of the night.

JUST A GIRL

BY JANE PHELPS

A FAREWELL LUNCHEON

During our luncheon Tony had asked me how much I earned with Mr. Claxton. When I told him, rather proudly, I must admit, he said: "If you earn $25 a week can't you get out of that awful rooming house? I don't see how you stand it. Zena, honestly I don't. After your lovely home, to live in that place. You forget, Tony, that it is a long time now since I have had a 'lovely home.' Mrs. Fagin is very kind to me. I don't know how I could have lived at one time had it not been for her. She helped Mary and me get started in the paucity shop, has waited upon me when I was sick, and oh, done lots of things for me! But when Tom and Mary are married, I shall live with them until I can save enough to bring Mother on."

"Is that your plan? To have your Mother with you?"

"It has been the one thing that has kept me going, Tony."

"By Jove, Zena! You're a wonder!"

Tony had also asked me some questions about Mr. Claxton. He tried to tease me a little when he found he was a bachelor, but soon desisted when I explained how very kind, but employerlike always, he had been to me.

Tony had said one thing that worried me a little.

"I shall be away several months. Zena. But now that I have found you I'm not going to lose you again. I shall be in Chicago occasionally, and we'll have some good times together, like we used to."

"But Tony, I have neither the time nor the strength to do the things I used to—nor the clothes. Then think what Old Lady Grundy would say if she knew that Tony Deland was wasting his time on an office girl!"

"That old cat has nothing to do with us. We don't care what she says. I do, and must Tony. You see we are apt to see people who know my position, and who would make wrong deductions to see me with, or any other wealthy man."

"Have it your own way now, Zena," he snuffed at me. "But perhaps by the time I come back you will have changed your mind."

I had been so engrossed with Tony that I had not noticed anyone in the restaurant, which was so large I would not have noticed anyone I knew unless they had been sitting very near.

I was more than surprised as I went into the office to have Mr. Deland say:

"I see you break your rules when it suits you, Miss Stewart. A millionaire like Deland usually gets what he wants."

I was so surprised that he knew Tony was there, I said:

"You know Mr. Deland?"

"I know who he is. I was with a New York firm for a while, and handled a good deal of his father's business."

"I have known Mr. Deland all my life," I replied, then hurried past him into Mr. Claxton's office, but not so quickly that I didn't hear Jeanie Wiley say:

"She's been brought up on millionaires according to her. But she had to butt in here as a bluff."

My cheeks burned. I felt heart-sick, as I invariably did when anything like that was said either to or about me. But I was fast learning that personal feelings of any kind could not be allowed to interfere with business if I were to make good.

So as quickly as possible I compelled myself to put my mind on my work and forget her unpleasant remark.

"Has Mr. Deland gone?" It was

Mr. Claxton who spoke. I had been so engrossed that I had not heard the office door open.

"Yes, he left about an hour ago. He is going to Europe."

"You will miss him. It must have been a great treat for you to see and talk with one of your old friends."

"It was, Mr. Claxton. And Tony was so nice to Mary and Tom. He took us all to dinner at the Blackstone Saturday night, then to the theater."

I was surprised at the quick look of something very like gladness that came into Mr. Claxton's eyes at my remark.

"I dated at the Blackstone Saturday, too, and saw you. The gentleman I was with knew Mr. Deland, and spoke very highly of him."

"Is that so?" Since his father's death he has become quite a business man, I judge."

This ended the conversation about

Tony, but it left me feeling happy once more—absolutely oblivious to the black looks of Mr. Betts and Miss Wilcox.

My Wife Was In a Bad Way When She Began Taking Drecto

She got satisfaction from every dose of Drecto, the great herbal remedy, and soon her nerves were quiet, sleep became sound, constipation relieved and dizziness disappeared.

"When I left home this morning the last thing my wife said was 'Please to bring home some more Drecto.' It has done her so much good she doesn't want to miss a dose," said Mr. C. F. Chat, of 2444 Route No. 1.

"Drecto is growing stronger every day and each dose gives satisfaction," he continued. "Her bowels act better every day and it is not long since the ordinary phlegm, but gives so much comfort. Her nerves have been quieted so she does not get excited as formerly and her sleep is sound and refreshing, awakening the next morning feeling refreshed and full of energy."

"Has Mr. Deland gone?" It was

"My wife was in a bad way when she began taking Drecto and she is so much better now that the whole family is highly pleased and feel that Drecto has been a great blessing to our household."

Drecto, the great root and herb remedy, which did so much for this lady, acts on the bowels to relieve constipation in a natural manner, acts by harsh purging, but regular daily action. Drecto clears off a sluggish liver, strengthens weak kidneys, aids the stomach and purifies the blood. It relieves bilious headaches, dizziness, rheumatism, aching muscles and painful joints; overcomes gas in the stomach and indigestion.

All druggists now sell Drecto and it is being especially introduced in Lima by Baldwin's Central Drug Store, corner Main and High streets.

A Better Butter Substitute

Spread KEYKO on delicate bread or a fragile wafer. Note how easily and evenly it spreads. There are no hard lumps; no mushy places where the knife digs into the bread. You can spread dainty sandwiches with KEYKO.

KEYKO possesses all the "texture" of high grade butter. It is easily worked. It comes to the table just right for table use.

One great fault with butter substitutes heretofore has been the lack of "texture." Only an ice pick or a spoon would handle them.

Try a pound of KEYKO and you get the "feel" of butter the instant you put a knife into it. Our exclusive methods give KEYKO this ideal body.

Women of All Ages and Times

Ask your mother, aunt, grandmother, they will tell you of folks they have known who were cured of the many distressing, painful diseases which occur in most women's lives, by taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which is sold by druggists, in both fluid and tablet form. What women say:

Mrs. Clyde S. Warren, 377 West St., Ashtabula, Ohio, says: "When I was a girl at home I became all run-down in health, was very weak and nervous. I was miserable all the time, nothing seemed to help me until, thru the advice of my mother, I took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and it gave me real relief."

Mrs. Rena Ruthenberg, 1209 E. 80th St., Cleveland, Ohio, says: "During all of my married life I have depended upon Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription to keep me strong and well. It has been especially beneficial to me during motherhood, I know it prevented suffering. As a woman's tonic I consider 'Favorite Prescription' unexcelled."

Mrs. Susan Fuller, 19 Van Cleave St., Dayton, Ohio, says: "I can highly recommend Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription to women who are going thru middle life. At that time my health failed. I was extremely nervous and suffered with bearing pains. I also suffered from dizzy spells and pains in the back of my neck and head. I was very miserable until I began taking the 'Prescription,' but at once commenced to mend and I was soon strong and healthy."

SUSIE SMART SAYS

Dear Susie Smart: I am a girl fourteen years of age and have been with several fellows. My chum goes with a fellow and has gone with him for some time. He would get a fellow to take me home just so he could take my chum home. I do not care to go with one fellow one night and another the next night. What can I do to avoid this?

SUSIE:
At the age of fourteen you should not be going places with your girl friend at night. Then you would not be put in such a position. You are too young to go out evenings unless accompanied by an older person.

"Poor Butterfly." I have not space in my column to translate a German poem. Probably you can translate it yourself if you refer to a German dictionary.

Dear Susie Smart: I am a young lady nineteen years old and have a girl chum of twenty. We are very devoted to each other and are always together. We have many nice friends, but we have no many troublesome neighbors around us.

That when our friends call for us and the neighbors hear the car stop they run to their windows or doors to find out what can be seen. They are very meddling and cause us many unhappy moments.

We are nice respectable girls and believe that we are old enough to have company two or three times a week. Please tell us if we should continue to put up with it, or tell them to mind their own business.

TINY AND PEI:
You are looking for trouble. Your neighbors are curious and gossip like other human beings. They can do you no harm, however. If your conduct is above reproach be careful to go with a good class of young men and to do nothing you will not be willing to have your mother see you do.

Personally I disapprove of motor rides for young girls and young men unless they are chaperoned. Such rides have been the cause of many of the present day tragedies. Say nothing to your neighbors. Let them look if it gives them so much pleasure.

DEAR MISS SMART:—Please answer a few questions. (1) Please tell me some different ways in which a girl can entertain a gentleman friend at her home in the evening. (2) What can I use to make my eye-lashes long? (3) Would a little girl of 11, light hair and dark eyes, look neat in a dark color? Thank you.

A FRIEND:
Ans.—(1) Just for a suggestion, you might read a story aloud, or look at the family album. (2) Vaseline is supposed to be good for eye-lashes, but be careful not to get any in the eyes. (3) A little dark blue or brown dress would be very becoming for a girl of 11.

Will Mrs. A. E. W. kindly enclose a self-addressed stamped envelope in her request?

Dear Miss Smart:—Is it proper to write to a man when you owe him a letter and he has moved, but you know his new address?

MICKLEY:
Ans.—If you owe the gentleman a letter you should write him, even if he has moved.

Dear Miss Smart:—Would you advise me to give up my date with a boy to another girl in our crowd? It will be in the same crowd and will have no result.

BERPHEA:
Ans.—If you have an engagement with him, keep it yourself and don't have another girl go with him.

Dear Miss Smart:—Is it alright for me to wear a ring which belongs to a friend of mine who is away? It is just an ordinary class ring. I know a party who wants it. Should I give it to them?

LUCILLE:
Ans.—I take it for granted that the ring belongs to a boy friend of yours. There is no harm in wearing it, but don't pass it around to your friends to wear.

RECIPES FOR A DAY.

Veal Birds—Use thin veal steaks. Cut in pieces equivalent to four inches square. Sprinkle with pepper and salt. Fill with dressing, roll up together and hold in place with toothpicks. Place in roasting pan. Cover bottom of roaster with water and cover with lid. Bake in a moderate oven until tender. Baste often.

Dressing—Two cups dry bread crumbs, two tablespoons butter (melted), one teaspoon salt, one-quarter teaspoon pepper, one-half teaspoon onion salt, one teaspoon celery salt. Moisten with boiling water.

This affords a use for stale bread and is a change from other cuts of meat.

Cake Bread—One pint of sour milk, one pint sweet milk, one teaspoon of sour cream, one teaspoon soda, one teaspoon salt, one cup molasses, one quart cornmeal, one cup of white flour. Mix all together, stir one-half hour and bake three hours with a slow fire.

Simple Salad Dressing—It requires no cooking and can be used as soon as made, but thickens if allowed to stand a little while. Keeps indefinitely.

One can (sweetened) condensed milk, one egg, one teaspoon vinegar, one teaspoon salt, one teaspoon mustard; stir all together until smooth.

Paprika Veal With Noodles—Get about one and one-half pounds of the flank, brown one large sliced onion in two tablespoons of fat, then put in the veal and brown it on one side, then keep turning it until it is well browned. Then add one heaping teaspoonful of paprika, pour one cup of boiling water over it and cover it and let it steam for one hour. Take out the meat and slice it into thin slices. Add two tablespoons of flour to the meat gravy, brown it, add a cup of milk and a cup of water. Stir until it is a smooth gravy about the consistency of thick cream.

Noodles—Break one egg into a bowl, add its bulk in water and about as much flour as it will take up (do not forget salt). Boil out very thin, let it lay for an hour, then roll it up and cut into wide strips. Boil in salted water. Drain and add about one-half cup of the paprika gravy, stir well. Place on the center of a large platter. Lay the slices of meat around, put a little of the gravy over the top and serve.

Combination Salad (meat and vegetables)—Two cups of cold boiled potato, preferably left with the jacket on, or potato left over from other meal, one-half cup of diced carrots, cooked, and another of peas, both leftovers, one large onion minced very fine and about three-quarters cup of meat left from the noon meal diced. This may be omitted. Marinate with a boiled salad dressing and serve on lettuce. Cover with finely minced parsley.

Blanc Mange With Cherry Sauce—Make a blanc mange of three cups of milk, one cup water, four tablespoons cornstarch, salt, three-quarters cup sugar and the yolk of two eggs. Pour into cup molds and place on ice. Beat the whites until they are very stiff, add three tablespoons of preserved cherries. Invert the blanc mange when ready to serve and surround with the cherry stuff. Children like this as well as ice cream.

Eggs in Spinach Cases—Line the bottom and sides of buttered ramekins with hot, very finely chopped and seasoned spinach, leaving a deep indentation in each ramekin. Break an egg into each case, sprinkle with salt, pepper and paprika, and add one teaspoon of butter to each. Set in a pan of hot water in a medium hot oven until the eggs are set. Remove and pour a small round of thick catsup on the center of each egg, and serve.

Baked Beans—Soak one pound beans over night. Cook following morning until they can be crushed (not until they break of their own accord, as they become mushy then.) Drain the water off. This is excellent soup when salt, pepper and a little sugar and dumplings are added. To the beans add two tablespoons of sugar, salt and pepper to taste. Then add about one-half small bottle of catsup. About one-half hour before you are ready to serve them, put them in the oven and brown. If directions are followed it is a delicious dish. If a few slices of pork or bacon are slightly fried and cut up in them it makes it still better.

TAUSTY DESSERTS.

Peach Bavarian Cream—Dissolve one package loganberry jiffy jelly in one pint boiling water. When nearly congealed beat with a Dover egg beater until like whipped cream. Stir in one-quarter cup thick cream and place in ice box until ready to serve. Fold in sliced peaches just before serving. This is a most attractive dessert. Light after a heavy meal and easily prepared.

Marble Cream Dainty—Take one-half envelope of gelatin, soak in one-half cup of cold water for five minutes. Take one cup of sugar, put in pan, add one-half cup water, let it boil for a few minutes; pour boiling hot over gelatin; stir with a spoon until dissolved; let stand to cool, but do not chill. Whisk whites of four eggs very light in a separate bowl. Add gelatin to eggs, a few spoonful at a time, beating constantly, adding a few drops of vanilla and a few grains of salt. Divide quickly into three parts.

To the first part add a rounding tablespoon of peanut butter. Second part, two spoonfuls of melted chocolate or cocoa. Third part, leave plain or color pink with vegetable color; if liked chopped nuts or cherries may be added to the white.

THE DEVIL'S PASSKEY

On next Sunday and for four days there is a picture coming to the Lyric theater that none who see it will ever forget. It is "The Devil's Passkey", dealing with woman's greatest weakness and her greatest temptations. Imagine it! Try if you can to picture the husband's situation when, after years of grinding work as a playwright, he creates his masterpiece only to find that the plot he has conceived and so successfully carried into execution has been predicated upon the sins and indiscretions of his wife whom he has loved so well. Can you imagine the possibilities which lie in this great story as such becomes animated on the screen? And Paris! All the wonder, the gaiety, the glitter and the wickedness of this world-famous city is spread in vivid array before you as you sit in amazement and see this picture-panorama unfold before you. For an hour you'll think you're actually there. The most insignificant detail in this picture is brought out in a realistic manner. Nothing is forgotten. It has both breadth and depth. The great race-track scene at Longchamps, the glittering shops, the gorgeous interior of the Theatre Francaise with its fashionable audience, the gay after-theatre supper at the Tivoli where La Belle Odeira dances, all serve to absorb, thrill and entrance you. Let nothing keep you from seeing this picture. It is unusual and ever so much more than worth while.

WOMEN'S AID IN HOUSING URGED

Conference to Draft Program for Relief Proposed

WASHINGTON — A conference of women representing every section of the country to draft a programme for immediate and nation-wide relief from the housing situation was proposed today by Mrs. Clara Sears Taylor, a member of the District of Columbia Rent Commission, and one of the six women appointed by President Wilson to executive offices.

There is "too much talk and too little action," Mrs. Taylor declared, and it is time for the women to take a hand.

"Housing is primarily a women's question," she said. "The health of the nation will seriously suffer unless immediate remedy is provided for the present congestion and high rents. It is for the women to come together and find the way out. They can stop the artificial inflation of rents."

"Now is the time for them to agitate for better houses. Before there is a wholesale building of new dwellings they should have a programme ready embodying their ideas of homes built for comfort and health."

"For centuries women have lived in houses built by men and according to men's ideas. No thought has been given to the convenience of the housewife, the member of the family who spends most time in the home."

REDUCE DRUDGERY
The drudgery of housework can be reduced by the proper equipment and arrangement of a house.

"To a man the height of the kitchen sink is a trivial matter. To the woman who does her own housework it is most important. When my husband and I built our first little home, my chief interest was in the kitchen sink. I supervised its construction and at last I realized my dream of a sink low enough for me to do my dishwashing without straining.

"There are many things about the building of a house which to a man seem trivial, but to women are important not only from the standpoint of comfort, but of health."

"Every kitchen should be arranged to suit woman's idea of convenience and should be equipped with modern electric appliances to save time and energy. The farm woman particularly should have a model kitchen."

"There should be houses built especially for the women who are wage-earners as well as housewives to enable them to perform their household duties with a minimum of exertion."

"These are things for the women to demand. Bad housing affects not only the health, but the morals of the nation. There is no problem now facing the country more important than this for the newly enfranchised woman to give her attention to. The situation is too critical for delay."

PEACE RIVER VALLEY

CANADA'S GARDEN SPOT

EDMONTON, Alta. — Agnes C. Laut, famous as an author of books dealing with the pioneer history and development of Western Canada, has returned from an extended trip in the Peace River Valley.

"This north country," said Miss Laut, "will some day be one of the garden spots of Canada. It is settling slowly. That is due to the homeseeker's dread of cold. But it is a delightful place to live. In Summer it is lush with wild meadows and riotous abundance of wild flowers suggest the tropics. In Winter its climate is tempered by Chinook winds. Wheat yields thirty and forty bushels to the acre. Its vegetables are wonderful livestock pasture outdoors all winter."

"It is 600 miles long by 200 wide, an area equal to that of Texas, Kansas, Iowa and Missouri combined, which support a population larger than that of all Canada. The Canadian Pacific Railway recently took over the line that is the market outlet of the country and will have it rehabilitated by next Summer."

Then this rich agricultural and livestock region, I predict, will enter upon an era of rapid and remarkable development."

INDUSTRIAL LIMA NOT HARD HIT

Employment Slump More Marked
Elsewhere Than Here

Lima's Industrial area, it appears,
is experiencing far less of an employment slump than in the east, particularly the steel products section.

Building is stagnant, a common story in all parts of the country, and many other things are on the decline, but several basic lines—good bar-ometers—are moving along at approximately normal speed.

Here are some observations gathered from talks with representative employers in three big industries here
recently:

WAGES: Slight cuts. Union scales of course, have not been reduced. In some lines where labor is more abundant men have been taken on at lower pay than in the past, but the general feeling is that unemployment will be no greater than in the winter of 1914.

UNEMPLOYMENT: Apart from building and construction trades, layoffs have been more common in
"nonessential" lines. Men are now more plentiful than jobs and employment may continue to slacken until the first of the year, but the general feeling is that unemployment will be no greater than in the winter of 1914.

High earnings, large savings accounts and growing thrift, as displayed by the "buyin strike," have put the workers in far better position than ever before to withstand a short period of sag while adjustment is taking place.

In general, the belief was expressed that so far, at least, the readjustment in industry has gone on easily and smoothly, and that it will continue that way. The pessimists are far outnumbered by the optimists.

IODINE HEALS
RUNNING SORES, QUICK RELIEF

Old Sores, Abscesses, Follies, Ringworms, Chronic Ulcers, etc., are best treated and most quickly healed by the application of Iodine, says a well-known authority who also states that the wide-spread use of Iodine in army medical corps, has thoroughly proved its great value. The new form of Iodine, because in this form it irritates and attacks the skin. The new form of Iodine—Lanated Iodine—is the best for such purposes. This comes in the form of an ointment and is really irritationless, will not irritate, and is readily absorbed by the tissues. In the Lan-ated form, Iodine is raw and pleasant to use, and every disagreeable feature has been removed. It quickly penetrates to the bottom of the sore, and is really delicious. Nearly all local druggists, including Fred Butler and Sikhrantz, now sell and recommend Lan-ated Iodine. Try it. We believe nothing you have ever had will prove so effective and satisfying.—Adv.

BAN ON DANCING IS SCORED

Methodist Attitude Denounced by Actors' Association.

NEW YORK — More resolutions denouncing the attitude of the Methodist Episcopal Church toward the amusement profession have just been adopted unanimously by the executive council of the Actors' Equity Association. The memorial follows:

Whereas: Forbidding members of the Methodist Episcopal Church to dance, play cards, attend theatres, horse races and circuses, under penalty of expulsion as at present, is premarily a question to be fought out by the progressive Methodists, but

Whereas: By authority of the Methodist movement ban the 1872 blue laws have been lifted to 1920 dancing teachers out of the Methodist church, and

Whereas: It seems no more reprehensible to teach the art of dancing than it is for church members themselves to dance, which most of them do, and

Whereas: In the Actors' Equity Association there are thousands of Christians who are professional dancers, many of whom have been brought up in Methodism. They are proud of their calling and resent unfair church criticism of their vocation, and

Whereas: Dancing masters are our brothers and sisters in the amusement profession; hence, to insist on doing to them is also resented by those on the stage, and

Whereas: A dancing teacher who had been a member of one Methodist church in Wichita, Kan., was refused affiliation with another because of his connection with the amusement profession. In commenting on the treatment accorded her, the Central Christian Advocate, "official organ of the Methodist Episcopal Church," editorially recently stated:

"The pastor who finally put his hand between a dancing master and our fellowship acted at once in his right and his duty. Any other action would have branded him a hired shepherd, who caught not for sheep but for a dancing master who wanted to come into the Methodist church and who professed to penitence to be received into the church."

Therefore, he it is revealed in the name of the theatrical profession, a well as speaking for the dancing masters of the country, the Actors' Equity Association reiterates its indignation at such pharisaic attitude on the part of any Christian denomination. This organization again calls publicly upon the Board of Bishops of the Methodist Church, annual conferences and next General Conference to state the standpoint of modern Methodism toward all those in the amusement profession, particularly concerning their eligibility for membership.

The Actors' Equity Association further wishes J. Henry Smythe, Jr., success in his campaign to keep this important question in the limelight thereby bringing the Methodist Church up to date on the entire amusement problem.

ASKS MOTORISTS "SPARE THIS TREE"

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass. — Listen to this: "O truckmen spare this tree! Have a heart and don't built me The street is narrow, but the world is wide. Try to back on the other side." The foregoing more or less classic verse, the product of some modest townsman, has been pinned to a large elm tree on Mangus-ave.

It was apparently inspired by the fact that a reckless motorist recently crashed into the tree with his car, escaping injury himself, but seriously gashing the elm.

WILL LOSE FORTUNE IF HE MARRIES

BOSTON — Unless William Garrison Reed, of Brookline, abstains

from matrimony in future, he will receive none of the tenements which otherwise come to him under the terms of the will left by his wife, Mrs. Mary C. Reed. The testament which has been admitted to probate, provides that so long as Reed remains single and survives his children, he shall enjoy the income of a trust fund created by the document. He also is to have the use of the family furniture on the same terms. The children are living. The estate is valued at $12,000.

The Slaughter of the Innocents

"Three and a half million children call to the heart and resources of America for these daily supplies, not available in their own countries, that are vital to their survival and to the rebuilding of their physical well-being."

"Our resources will be exhausted in January."

"We must not step aside and permit the spectre of death, in the form of hunger and cold to haunt these helpless ones this winter, yet we can not continue without help . . ."

"This is a charge on the American heart, and America can not fail in her solicitude for these little ones."

"Twenty-three million dollars must be raised without delay, and remembering the new heart you put into the Commission for Relief in Belgium in the dark hours of 1916, I come to you again."

(Signed) HERBERT HOOVER

From a letter to The Literary Digest

In immediate response the following editorial was published in The Literary Digest of Oct. 30th:

WHEN JESUS CHRIST CAME upon the earth, nearly two thousand years ago, to save all mankind, his mere coming seemed to interfere with the material interests of a few people of that period, notably King Herod, who promptly decided to dispose of this "interloper," and sent forth his soldiers with orders to slay all the children of two years old and under. Thus was consummated the most atrocious crime against innocent childhood ever committed up to that time. It has come down to us through all the ages in song and story, and master painters have pictured it on marvelous canvases.

To-day passing in review, as we look out through the windows of our comfortable homes in this great and happy land, are three and a half millions of helpless children, the innocent victims of the greatest war that has ever afflicted humanity. It matters not, as we gaze in the direction of these children, that our eyes must stretch across three thousand miles of ocean, we still can see them and we still can hear them, if we wish to do so; and we can not help hearing the tragic appeal in their voices and seeing their tiny arms stretched out to us, and their searching eyes looking into our souls, as they say, "Help us, or we perish." And if we fail to listen to this great call of three and a half millions of God's helpless children; if we close our eyes and ears to this great demand of duty, we shall be just as guilty of the "slaughter of the innocents" as was Herod, nearly two thousand years ago.

In these lands, swept by death and filled with tragedies too deep for tears, a sum of human suffering is being written greater perhaps than for all ages gone by. The mind grows numb and the heart sick from a constant recital of tales of such tragedy as it is difficult to believe the twentieth century could hold.

And so, when we received a letter from Mr. Hoover telling us that America must not allow death in the form of hunger and cold to come to these 3,500,000 helpless children our soul was stirred and the hot blood surged up in our heart. We felt it was our imperative duty to use all the power God has given us to aid this noble-hearted American in continuing the work of saving human lives to which he has devoted unsparingly, and at great personal sacrifice, his tremendous energy and administrative genius during the past six years, in which time he and his American colleagues have administered two billions of dollars of relief funds from all parts of the world with a total overhead expense of only three-eighths of one per cent., with no remuneration to the American directors. Now he asks us all to help save the children who are in imminent danger of starvation this coming winter.

There they are, in the midst of wrecked homes, and farms, and factories; in cities crowded with masses of refugees without sustaining food for children, through the destruction of live stock; seeds for planting, raw materials, tools, and machinery gone; great areas with everything burned, or looted, or smashed; vast unemployment for workers; no means of subsistence; a land of economic ruin, of mutilated life, and lingering death; and in the midst of it all—the little children.

In long lines they are waiting at the American food kitchens. Will the food be there for them? Will they be turned away? There are no happy, healthy faces in those long lines—not one. You have seen rags and barefooted children, but never so many little boys and girls literally dressed in tatters. Soon it will be very cold, and for those bare little feet and legs and arms there is nothing at home to put on.

Hollow faces and shrunken bodies are so common that their real condition does not become evident until we inquire more closely, and then we find that most of them are from one to five years back in their growth. Children of eight years old have not reached the normal size of two and a half. They are just learning to stand alone. Others almost as old can not yet stand on their feet. Their arms, and legs, and spines, and chests are twisted and warped. The flesh and skin are shriveled on their bones. It is surprising that life can still exist there. If they can have food they will gradually regain their health and strength, but with most of them it is a question of now or never. Starvation and tuberculosis will not wait.

In Poland alone a million five hundred thousand such children must be cared for. In Latvia and Esthonia the people are living mostly on a diet made from potato-flour, oat-flour, and sawdust. In Czecho-Slovakia, in Hungary, in Austria, and in other countries of central and southeastern Europe, two millions more are in dire need of food and who stops to ask regarding creed, or race, or nationality when a little child is starving? Children are just children the world over, and the great American heart is big enough to care for them all.

But the appeal now is not for all. The three and a half millions of children in immediate danger of starvation, if this organization fails, who must have food at once, are only a fraction of the total number. The hungry children of those destitute countries have been examined by competent physicians, and only those whose wasted little bodies are reduced to the minimum weight, and whose endurance of hunger has reached the end which merges into actual starvation, are admitted to the American kitchens and given one meal a day. It is hard to turn away thousands of hungry boys and girls—to hear them ask, pleadingly, "Do I weigh too much?" "Am I not thin enough?" "Can't I come any more?" But this restricting of food to the extreme cases is compulsory, because there isn't enough for all.

And these neediest ones can not reach the kitchens through the cold winds and the snow barefooted and in the pitiful rags which form only a partial covering for their bodies. They must have clothes. Each outfit consists of one pair of warm woolen stockings, one pair of boots, and a little overcoat. This one meal a day, and these boots, stockings, and little coats can be supplied only if we give them. If we do not, the slaughter of the innocents by cold and starvation will be appalling.

Among the more than two million men and women who will read this page there is not one—there can not be a single one—whose heart will not respond gladly and eagerly to the challenge of this great need. We are asked, you with us, to cooperate with Mr. Hoover in raising twenty-three million dollars to feed and clothe these children and save them from death this winter. It can be done. It shall be done! THE LITERARY DIGEST knows its readers and the deep earnestness, the quick sympathy, the great-hearted generosity they always show when any real human need calls to them. You have never been called upon in vain. We are counting on you now with a great confidence. We know, also, how truly you represent the American spirit, which beats in the hearts of a hundred and three millions more in this big land of plenty, a spirit which leaps ready at every such call, and is never weary in well-doing. We are not a hermit nation, isolated from the world, when suffering and want cry out to us from anywhere under the sun. A great, a beautiful, and heart-sustaining hope supports these stricken people—America will come to their relief. For in the far places of the earth, where famine stalks one name and one alone is synonymous with rescue and hope—and that name is America.

The small individual unit of ten dollars will provide the coat and boots and stockings and one meal a day for one child this winter. We urge our readers—we urge every one whose eyes are on these words—to give quickly as many of these units as possible, to buy for themselves that precious and priceless thing, the life of a little child—as many of them as they can, and every one will be a shining star in an eternal crown. It was the Divine Love of little children, who came to earth as a little child, and who reigns now as the King of Glory, who said, "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these, ye have done it unto me." He does not forget, nor fail to reward.

So deeply do we ourselves feel the urgency of this great need, knowing all the facts, that we should feel a heavy burden of guilt if we did not go beyond anything we have felt possible heretofore in order to save these innocent children from suffering and death. Therefore, THE LITERARY DIGEST will start this fund with the sum of $25,000 to feed and clothe twenty-five hundred little boys and girls this winter. What an inspiration it will be to all of us—what an inspiration and example to many thousands who may be uncertain how much to give—if in the very first week there shall be a great shower of checks for $1,000, for $5,000, for $10,000, as well as a deluge of smaller amounts, to send the fund rolling on toward the necessary twenty-three millions. Let us all see again what the father's heart is like in this great rich land of America. Let us have again a wondrous revelation of the heart of American motherhood. Let us have a great outpouring of love and helpfulness in the name of Him who said, "Feed my lambs!"

President-Elect Harding, in a Great-Hearted Response, Sets an Example for all Americans

In the midst of the flood of telegrams, telephone calls, and election returns pouring in upon him from every part of the United States, Mr. Harding turned from it all to write and dispatch the following telegram from his home:

THE LITERARY DIGEST, NEW YORK CITY:—

I have just now read your splendid appeal to the people of America in behalf of three and a half millions of unfortunate children in Central and Southeastern Europe who are the helpless victims of the Great War. Because such a movement for relief reveals the true heart of America, because it bespeaks an American desire to play a great people's part in relieving and restoring God's own children, I want to commend and support your noble undertaking. In seeking God's blessing for ourselves I am sure He will bless us the more abundantly if we share our good fortune in acts of sympathy and human fellowship. I wish you a success which will reveal anew the unselfishness of our great people. I am forwarding you my check for two thousand five hundred dollars by mail today.

Marion, Ohio, November 4, 1920.

could be raised and the price of gas correspondingly decreased.

"I am confident that if satisfactory arrangements are not made very quickly, every consumer in this city and other towns supplied should take no chances and have something they can depend on besides natural gas."

Curtin made public a letter he was mailing Friday to representatives of the Medina Gas & Fuel Company. It follows:

CURTIN'S LETTER

Mr. Holton H. Scott,

60 Wall Street,

New York City, N. Y.

Dear Mr. Scott:

I received your letter of October 14th, I gave it to the newspapers in Lima and it was published.

About that time there was a Committee appointed by the Council of the Chamber of Commerce and the Citizens, three men from each body.

The City Council and the Chamber of Commerce together, employed an engineer. He spent a week going through the affairs of the Lima Natural Gas Company, i. e. called for your Mr. Neely who reported to him the condition of the gas business in your end of it.

This engineer made a very lengthy report to the Committee and recommended that we pay you 40c per thousand and at the limit and that we get from you $1.00 per thousand on a cost-plus plan with a readjustment every four or six months.

I had great hopes that this matter would be settled, this Committee of the City Council, who were appointed by the City Council, argued against the proposition, sticking to the idea of making the Medina Gas & Fuel Company and The Lima Natural Gas Company live up to the present ordinance which does not expire until next September.

claiming that the Medina Gas Company were only bluffing and that they would not shut off the gas as they had stated. This meeting was adjourned until next Tuesday evening.

I have not replied to your letter of the 13th because I had hoped that the matter would be amicably settled. The fact of the matter is that 90 per cent of the people of Lima are willing that you should get a decent price and they are willing that we should get a decent price also, but there are always a few who are against everything. The objection to the expert's report in the last evening came from members of the Council who had proposed the hiring of an expert in the first place, the report of the Committee is in favor of following the recommendation.

I do not feel that it is up to me to tell you what should be done, I feel it is up to you. I feel that you were sincere in your statements contained in your letter of October 14th and I always insisted that you were in earnest. I think you know how I feel about the matter and that I have tried our utmost to do our part at this end of the line.

I am enclosing herewith a clipping from this morning's paper which is a statement of the action of the Committee last evening. We have indicated to the Committee that we will abide by the recommendations of the expert the city employed.

Yours very truly,

(Signed) J. M. CURTIN

ROBBERY CASES ARE ON TRIAL

Men Charged With Holding Up Railroad Man, Facing Court

A card case, the property of Amos O'Brien, De-Phos, figured prominently in the trial of R. W. Fadd and Thomas Simpson, negroes, on trial for robbery in court Friday.

O'Brien claimed the card case, which contained his pass and railroad identification card was stolen from him when he was held up on W. North-st the night of October 6 and more than $200 taken from him.

O'Brien traced his movements the nights of October 5, in his testimony on the witness stand, immediately after the noon hour. He also identified the stolen card case. O'Brien is a railroad man, with headquarters in Delphos.

Officer James of the Lima police force, on the witness stand, told of seeing the negroes run from W. North-st to North and that they followed them directly in the alley of the Quaker Pipe Line Building, near where the card case was found on the morning of October 6.

The state had not concluded the taking of testimony at 2 o'clock and Simpson was indicted by the October grand jury, on the charge of robbery.

They are also defendants in a suit pending in common pleas court, in which O'Brien asks the return of the money stolen.

O'Brien sued for $299, claiming that was the amount taken. But when appraisal of the funds was made it was found $322.05 was taken from the negroes, at the time of their arrest.

Police Chief Roch was made a party defendant to the suit instituted by O'Brien because he refused to turn over the money, holding it until after the trial of the negroes for robbery.

WILL LAY OFF MEN
ALTOONA, Pa. — Announcement was made at the Pennsylvania railroad offices here Friday that 1,300 men in the Altoona shops or ten per cent of the force would be laid off November 15. All departments are affected.

A FIRESIDE COMPANION

On cool evenings, when you sit by the fire and enjoy rest after a hard day's work, a pleasant companion is the thought that a part of your earnings will be put in your savings account, that the sacrifices of today will insure to your benefit tomorrow.

Then there will be the evening time of life when you will sit by the fire more than you do now. When that time comes your savings account will be not only a pleasant companion but a very necessary one.

Have your savings where you know the interest is five per cent, the security one hundred per cent, and the principal available when sickness, old age or other emergency makes it necessary or important for use.

WILLIAM F. NUMAN COMPANY, AGENTS

BETTER THAN WHISKEY FOR COLDS AND FLU

New Elixir, Called Aspironal, Medicated With Latest Scientific Remedies, Used and Endorsed by European and American Army Surgeons to Cut Short a Cold and Prevent Complications.

Every Druggist in U. S. Instructed to Refund Price While You Wait at Counter If Relief Does Not Come Within Two Minutes.

Delightful Taste, Immediate Relief, Quick Warm-Up.

The sensation of the year in the drug trade is Aspironal! The two-minute cold and cough reliever, authoritatively guaranteed by the laboratories, tested, approved and most enthusiastically endorsed by the highest authorities, and proclaimed by the common people as the surest, as quick and effective as water, rock and rye, or any other cold and cough remedy they have ever tried.

All drug stores are now supplied with the wonderful new elixir, so that you have to do to get rid of that cold is to step into the nearest drug store, hand the clerk a half a dollar for a bottle of Aspironal and tell him to serve you two teaspoonsful with four teaspoonfuls of water in a glass.

With your watch in your hand take the drink at one swallow and call for your money back in two minutes if you cannot feel your cold fading away like a dream within the time limit. Don't be bashful, for all drug stores invite you and expect you to try it. Everybody's doing it.

When your cold or cough is relieved, take the remainder of the bottle home to your wife and babies, for Aspironal is by far the safest and most effective the easiest to take and the most agreeable cold and cough remedy for infants and children. — Adv.

At a meeting of the board of directors, at luncheon, at the Lima Club Friday, it was voted to change the name of the chamber and relief committee of the chamber to the social service bureau. A forum committee was named, with Glen Webb as chairman, Simon Fisher, A. D. Hildreth and M. Annin Potter.

HOME BREW BAN MAY BE TESTED

Courts Expected to Pass on Malt and Hop Sale

FORBIDDEN BY DRY RULING

Washington Officials, However,
Silent on Question

WASHINGTON — (By Associated Press) — Prohibition enforcement officers throughout the country have been instructed to prevent the sale of malt and hops to others than bakers and confectioners, but details of the order which tightens the ban on home brewing were lacking Friday.

In the absence of Commissioner Kramer, officials of the prohibition enforcement bureau said that the sale of hops and malt as component parts of home made beer had been ruled to be in violation of the Volstead act. They would not discuss, however, details of the new order, which is said to have resulted from a construction placed on the law nearly two months ago.

A document was started at that time thru regular channels for the purpose of obtaining a decision from the treasury in the matter, but it has not yet been approved by Secretary Houston. Officials admitted the existence of the proposed treasury ruling but would not comment concerning it.

It was said at Commissioner Kramer's office that litigation was expected to result in order to determine the jurisdiction of the government. The bureau, it was said, is convinced that sale of malt and hops is a violation of the prohibition law and is prepared to test the question in the courts.

BOY SWALLOWS NAIL, DIES OF PNEUMONIA

CHEYENNE, Wyo. — Edwin A. Hoadley, six-year-old son of J. E. Hoadley, of this city, is dead of pneumonia here, contracted when a nail lodged in the lower bronchial tube of his left lung, interfering with free passage of air.

The nail was very large, according to surgeons, and was swallowed when the boy was juggling it in his mouth while at play.

AND TIMES-DEMOCRAT
PUBLISHED EVERY DAY IN THE NEWS BUILDING, 121 E. HIGH STREET
BY THE NEWS PUBLISHING COMPANY

Entered at postoffice at Lima as second class mail matter.

ALL THE MONEY YOU HAVE CANNOT BUY TWO WORDS IN THESE COLUMNS OPEN LETTERS

To Service Director McClain

DEAR MAC: I notice that you have been using the new asphalt plant obtained for street repair work, in laying down asphalt in sheet form on brick paved streets where the paving has gone to the bad.

I've been watching the result of that sort of plan and I for one am convinced that the arguments marshaled by enemies of the idea of resurfacing Main-st have dissipated. However, by the time spring arrives, we'll have proof positive as to whether the resurfacing plan is what is hoped for it.

Keep your eye on the repairs at Main and North-sts. The work was done some time ago and it's still there, in good condition, feather edge and all.

LIMA BEANE.

To the Lima Rotary Club

BOYS: You did a big-hearted and commendable service for the community when you made possible the clinic for crippled children and the treatment of them. Your organization is building up an enviable reputation for unselfish, humanitarian acts. I want to thank you and express my appreciation.

LIMA BEANE.

To Court Officials

GENTLEMEN: Soon you will be calling women for jury service. What arrangements have you made for special jury rooms and accommodations for female jurors? It appears to me that this matter should be taken up at once.

LIMA BEANE.

To the American Legion

BOYS: I'm glad you are going to provide another boxing carnival. You have furnished clean sport since you took up this work and I can always count on a good scrap when you're behind it.

While I'm at it I want to take this occasion to ask the sport-loving fans to give you their support. They have not been over-generous in this respect at your last few shows. They are the losers.

LIMA BEANE.

To J.E. Morton, Secretary, Lima Merchants' Association

DEAR JIM: I understand you have resigned as secretary of the Lima Merchants' association to enter upon a new line of endeavor the first of the year. I am sorry that my merchants are losing you for you have been of great service to them. They are indebted to you for one of the finest credit rating systems in the country and for other valuable work. I hope you will be as successful in your new field as you have been with the merchants.

LIMA BEANE.

To Safety Director Fred Fisher

DEAR FRED: I am glad your department has succeeded in securing new traffic signs. They have been needed for a long time. It is the city's duty to have streets properly marked since traffic has become so heavy.

LIMA BEANE.

To City Council

GENTLEMEN: It was a reflection on our fair city when Sergeant Long, a soldier of the United States army who has provided a flag for the pole in the public square for months, was forced to appeal to a civic organization for a flag suitable to be raised on Armistice Day. He has used all the flags at his command as recruiting officer here and was without one for use on this solemn occasion.

Finances may be short, but we cannot measure patriotism or honor to our departed heroes in dollars and cents. Please set aside a fund to provide a flag for the city flagpole every day in the year.

LIMA BEANE.

To E. E. Brownell, Gas Expert

DEAR SIR: I am glad you have made a report on my gas problems. You have covered the situation fully in a preliminary manner, leaving no reason why a speedy adjustment cannot be effected.

You have given the public much information never before available. You have handled it in an impartial and expert manner and I sincerely hope that the powers that be profit from your work.

LIMA BEANE.

To Chief O. J. Roush

DEAR JAKE: Keep up the good work. Keep the whiskey runners out. The people intended this to be a dry country and their desires cannot be carried out with a few constantly violating the law. You did good service a few days ago in taking a whiskey auto. Keep an eye on them.

LIMA BEANE.

To the Politicians

DEAR BOYS: Lima folks on November 2 decided by a vote of two for to one against, that they desire the commission-manager form of government brought into being in this city on January 1, 1922.

It is sincerely to be hoped that you boys who have been making a foot ball of your particular political party will forget political wire pulling while you are inside the corporate limits and not muss up the local situation under the new plan as you have been doing under the aldermanic style of municipal government.

I hope that you'll confine your political operations to that part of the county outside the city after the commission-manager plan goes into effect. I am sure we'll all be happier if you do.

LIMA BEANE.

To Lima Soda Dispensers

DEAR FRIENDS: When sugar went up your prices went up. When sugar came down your prices stayed up. Have a heart.

LIMA BEANE.

To Service Director McClain

DEAR MAC: A cover on a man-hole at the corner of Wayne and Baxter-sts has been in a dangerous condition for several days. Someone will be injured there and I will have a damage case to settle. Please have it fixed.

LIMA BEANE.

AS YOU LIKE IT

HOMER
In all the lands you may have known,

Where men are wont to stray,
From temperate to frigid zone,
Across the world away
And back again I swear to you
Wherever you may roam,
You'll never see a sky so blue
As the heaven over home.

When spring is in the air again
With flowers fresh abloom,
And nature seems so fair again
With hyacinth perfume
That thrills the senses so the heart
Is lighter than the foam
Upon the sea, it's time to start
For the place that men call home.

And I believe there comes a time
To every man like me
Who's traveled round in many a land.

ABE MARTIN

Of all th' substitutes a substitute speaks in th' worst. We're mighty find of one thing—we don't have it know how to pronounce "oliarth"
any more.

CLIME
To see what he shall see,
When substance seems a shadow
flashed
Across the mystic dome
And rainbow gold cannot be cashed
At any bank but home.

It has been a very interesting piece of news to us that the tipping system has been abolished. The papers tell us of hungry waiters and bartenders standing about the streets waiting for a meal. In view of this news we took a chance the other night on Broadway and escorted the missus to a restaurant. We were privileged to pay the hat girl 25 cents for depositing our hat. The head waiter got 50 cents for showing us a table. The waiter got $1 and, going out, the hall boy got 35 cents. The meal cost $2.50 and the help got $2.10. Yes, tipping is abolished, if you know where to go.

MARCEL'S DRAMATURGY.

The modern drama as exemplified in our theater does not in every sense of the word portray the higher side of our life—and yet it does. Characters on the stage seldom manifest the human instinct with which we come into contact daily, and yet would we recognize that instinct if it were properly shown? Can drama-lurgy teach us the proper construction of a play or does it merely exist in the minds of a few exaggerated egos? Are there fixed rules which the successful dramatic author must follow and would the audience understand them if there were? From the box-office standpoint is there such a thing as drama-turgy? Can a play succeed in spite of the fact that it is written contrary to all rules of dramatic composition? Ask the tired business man.

I ask you—what has been said—I ask you.

MARCEL STEINBRUGGE.

ALL GONE

John Barleycorn, my Jo John.
Completely you have went,
And taken all your family,
Even little Two Per Cent.

Tennysen J. Daft.

We are sorry to see the covenant go into the scrap heap, but we will try to bear up under the sorrow.

YOUR NAME

RACIAL ORIGIN—Gothic or ancient French.

SOURCE—A given name.

Here is a family name which does not sound English, a name borne by Ralph Waldo Emerson, and the it has been settled in England as a family name for many centuries. It is not an English name.

It is traceable to no given names among either the Anglo-Saxons or the Norman French, nor to any other likely source in the language of those peoples. On the other hand, it is traceable genealogically, thru the settling in England of a family bearing that name, to a certain merchant of Lyons named Peter Waldo, who in the twelfth century attracted considerable attention for his denial of the church's doctrine of transubstantiation and his translation of the gospels into French, or rather the Provencal language.

With this clue it is not difficult to trace his family name (and this was just the period when family names were beginning to come into existence) to a given name among the Goths. Comparatively little is known of the language of this Teutonic race which dominated all southern Europe after smashing the Roman empire, for both the language and customs of the Goths gave way rapidly before the superior civilization which they conquered and settled themselves into. Their prominence, however, persisted, exerting a powerful influence on that of modern France and Italy.

The given name in question apparently was derived from the Gothic word "Waldan," and signified "one who rules." Names ending in "o" were as typical of the Goths and the Franks as those ending in "a" were of the Anglo-Saxons.

TODAY'S HEALTH HINTS

By William Brady, M.D.

A sweet little patient, one of the brightest little patients I ever had, used to positively welcome my visits, even when she herself was sick. She would submit to any necessary examination, such as letting the doctor thrust a tongue depressor down her throat or telephone all over her chest, with unfailing cheer. Then, suddenly, at about the age of three years, she changed into the most difficult patient, screaming and crying at the doctor's arrival and fighting wildly against any examination or even a tender look. The child's mother was blessed with extraordinary good sense and had trained her well. The mother had been accidentally carried off, and some old fashioned aunts assumed charge of the child. These kindly-minded, but amateurish, maid-aunts, at once began what they called moral suasion. One of their favorite disciplinary methods was to threaten to call the doctor if the child did not do thus and so. Naturally the coming of the doctor assumed terrifying proportions in the child's mind, despite her previous experiences. Had enough for aunts to perpetrate such an injustice, but what shall we say of parents who deliberately instill in children's minds just such false fears?

A child does not naturally fear the dark, or the thunder, or the bogey-man or anything of the kind unless taught to do so. And a child is a great observer. You need not tell your child that thunder will not hurt her if you have a sneaking fear of it yourself. You can't make your child fearless of going to bed in the dark if you yourself are secretly afraid of the dark. You can't fool a child at all.

I have found a boy now eleven years old who will stand and scream and cry on the street or anywhere if a dog physically approaches him or passes nearby. The boy's father is afraid of dogs, too, altho he indignantly denies it when you mention it. Yet I have seen him go far out of his way in order to avoid a harmless little dog.

A woman grown, with children of her own now, runs and hides whenever it thunders. Her mother was similarly obsessed. Her children suffer from this groundless fear, altho she imagines they have not noticed her running off to hide when it thunders. She thinks they inherit the fear. They inherit nothing but good eyesights and good hearing. Precept won't change them; they learn by example. You can't tell a child "It won't hurt" if it does hurt. Nor should you attempt to deceive the child, if you have the child's own interest at heart. Honesty is not only the best policy, it is the only policy to follow for the rearing of children. You may be a fine, finished liar, but you can't fool your own child.

When there's a bogey-man about we may be sure some child is getting a mighty poor bringing up.

There will be a regular meeting of the White Shrine of Jerusalem at the Eagle Hall Friday evening. There will be initiation, visitors.

REV. R. E. TULLOSS TO SPEAK HERE

Head of College in Campaign for Improvement Fund

Lutheran churches will be asked to provide a budget of a million and half dollars for the erection of new buildings, equipment and endowment purposes at Wittenberg college, Springfield, which is fostered by the Lutheran church.

The new president of the college is the Rev. Reese E. Tulloss, native of Leipsic, Putnam Co., and as president he is laying a foundation for greater college work there and to extend the benefits and privileges of the Lutheran church.

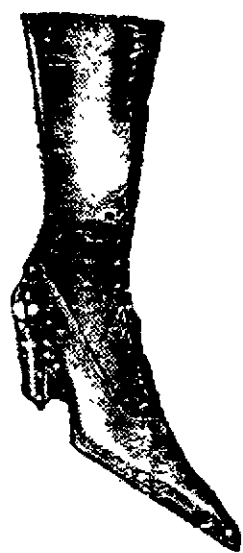

Dr. Tulloss will speak in Bethany Lutheran church, Sunday evening at 7 o'clock, in the first of a series of campaign addresses. St. Paul's Lutheran church, which will also aid the campaign, is interested in the appearance of Dr. Tulloss here. The campaign closes November 21.

The new president is a graduate of Wittenberg and of Harvard college, from which institution he received the degree of Ph. D. During his college course he invented a new method of operating the typewriter and later perfected a valuable invention in connection with wireless telegraphy.

ORPHEUM BILL IS FULL OF FUN

Fields and Robertson the Stars of a Mighty Good Program

'HUMAN STUFF' WILD PICTURE

Vaudeville House Features for End of Week Are Classy

(BY ESTHER WAGNER)
THERE'S a lot of good entertainment on the Orpheum's bill for the last half of this week. The headliners, the four casting Campbells, are splendid performers, giving an exhibition of strength and agility that is marvelous. They carry with them the inevitable clown, too, who has a lot of trouble with his collar.

King J. Sauls is an exceptionally good artist, giving a scientific demonstration of transparent paintings that are beautiful.

Merrigan and Howard, a short man and a tall girl have more fun than the audience has watching them. They sing a bit, and dance some, too.

Fields and Robertson are the stars of the whole show, tho. I don't know which is which, but the little one gets off some mighty clever stuff and his songs and poems are a scream.

A little playlet entitled "The Vamp" is out of the ordinary and is a corking drama with a surprise at the close. The principals are satisfactory.

Larue and Gresham — here's an act that, besides being humorous, displays some real talent on the part of the little lady of the company. She impersonates, first, a girl of the streets, then an old lady with a jag, and lastly a jibbering Italian woman. She's really good, folks.

Taken as a whole, there's enough enjoyment in the bill for anyone.

Human Stuff

This is not to be classed with the wildest of wild pictures, but it's wild enough and is quite human besides. It should be classified, perhaps, as follows:

Kind—Western Drama.
Class—Closer to third than second.

Story—It's about a noble young ranch owner (Mr. William Russell) who tries to reclaim a bonafide drunkard for the sake of the drunkard's wife, whom he, the ranch owner, loves with one of those silent self-sacrificing loves you read so much about. The drunkard refuses to be reclaimed, and being a crook besides a drunkard, he is shot and killed by the son of the man he wronged. Thus, you see, he leaves the coast—I mean desert—clear for the noble young ranchman, who steps right in and provides the love-making for the finale.

Acting—Pretty good, especially on the part of the horse, who runs errands and displays unusual intelligence. Some horse, that! The girls in the production, Miss Helen Ferguson and Betty Schade, are fine.

Remarks—If you like William Russell at all (and some people do) "Shod the Fire" will please you immensely.

It's playing at the Sigma.

BIG LEAGUE MOGULS MEET TODAY; HOPE TO AVOID CLASH

CHICAGO.—Club owners of the National and American Leagues were here today for a joint meeting to make a final effort to avoid a baseball war.

The meeting was agreed upon when the warring factions met in Kansas City to present their sides of the controversy before the minors. It was announced that at this session here today John A. Heydler, and B. B. Johnson, presidents of the National and American leagues respectively, lawyers, stenographers and all others are barred and that only the men financially interested in the two leagues are to be present. The meeting is to be informal and no record will be made of the proceedings.

Club owners today were expected to speak their individual opinions as to the best means for the reorganization of the game, so as to bring about peace. The magnates were scheduled to convene at noon.

After the joint meeting adjournment will be taken, while each league deliberates on the proposals for a final report. In the evening, another joint meeting will be held and it was expected that some decisive action will be taken to make peace.

The eleven club owners who favor the Lasker plan for the reorganization of the game, the National League club owners and Chicago, Boston and New York clubs of the American League, who favored the proposition, have definitely decided upon Federal Judge Kenneth Mountain Landis of Chicago as chairman of the new governing board of baseball, if he accepts the offer.

The two members of the American League, Detroit, Cleveland, St. Louis, Philadelphia and Washington, who have aligned themselves with Johnson, have signified their willingness to accept the jurisdiction of Landis.

Three New York baseball officials, Colonel Jacob Ruppert, of the American League, and Charles A. Stoneham and John McGraw of the Nationals, were expected in Chicago to attend today's session.

KANSAS CITY Mo.—The council grounds here of club owners and baseball officials of the nation, where a truce in the major league war was effected were deserted today. Representatives attending the meeting of the National Association of Minor Leagues, which ended last night, scattered to their homes, while the belligerent factions of the major leagues left early last night to be present at the peace negotiations in Chicago today.

The board of arbitration of the minor leagues remained here today to dispose of more than a hundred cases involving contract jumping by players, applications of suspended players for reinstatement and disputes of club owners over ownership of players and territorial rights.

SPORTSMEN TO MEET DEC. 3

COLUMBUS — More than 1,000 sportsmen from the big sportsmen's convention at Columbus, December 2, have been sent out by the Bureau of Fish and Game of the Department of Agriculture.

The convention opens with a meeting of the League of Ohio Sportsmen at Hotel Desher, at 10 A. M., and at one o'clock, A. C. Baxter, chief of the Bureau of Fish and Game and Secretary of Agriculture N. E. Shaw, will open the general program on fish and game matters, which will be followed by a banquet at six o'clock.

Fish and game motion pictures will be shown in the evening and one of the features will be "St. Gatton's" of Gatton, who holds the title of the man who can catch the biggest hunting and fishing fish in the state of Ohio.

The price of the banquet tickets is $3.00, and all reservations must be in the hands of the Convention Committee, Bureau of Fish and Game by November 25th. Invitations are open to any one interested in fish and game conservation and is better hunting and fishing in Ohio.

At Football Camps

MICHIGAN

ANN ARBOR, Mich. — Michigan continued its preparation for the Chicago game Saturday by holding another "workout" Thursday afternoon. The last scrimmage was held before the game was scheduled in the early morning. The team was divided into two groups, one to play against the reserves, and the other to play against the regulars. The regulars were kept out of the scrimmage. Trainer Archie Hahn reports all of the men in good shape with the exception of William Dunn, Tappan and Stokoe, who had been injured in the last game. It is expected both Stokoe and Tappan will start. Wolverine followers are clamoring for victory and the Michigan camp is confident.

NOTRE DAME

SOUTH BEND, Ind. — Prepared for another West Point battle, Coach Knicker and a squad of twenty-five players will continue to practice Saturday in a game that carries the crown of Hoosierdom as the reward of victory. Notre Dame devoted most of Thursday's workout to kicking and receiving punts. Gipp and Costello did the kicking. Gipp kicked and Costello passed the ball with considerable accuracy. Indiana formations failed to work as effectively against the variety as they did the first of the week.

ILLINOIS

URBANA, Ill. — Coached by more than a dozen captains, John Depner and his Illinois football team practiced Thursday evening. When it will be the first consecutive Saturday on which Zuppke has sent his championship team to practice. The team, which is expected to be in good shape, will practice at 10 A. M. Saturday.

The regular coach of Capt. Depner and his team, Coach Knicker, is expected to be in good shape. The team will practice at 10 A. M. Saturday.

WISCONSIN

MADISON, Wis. — Fast snappy signal practice and a dummy scrimmage against Illinois formations continued the Badger practice for Thursday. The speed and precision with which the plays were executed were well for the week. The first man in a position to be called is expected to be in good shape. The team will practice at 10 A. M. Saturday.

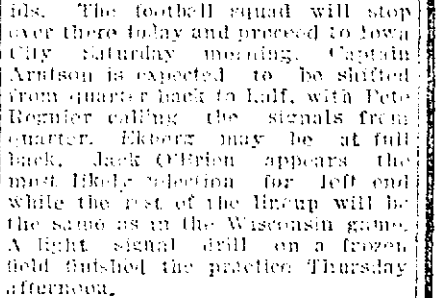

If a demonstration game for anything, the Badger chances for a victory should be high. Both Coach Knicker and the team desire nothing more than to defeat the Illini and come in the ranks of previous years. In the game played the Illini were well and the Badgers fared badly.

MINNESOTA

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. — Some last minute changes in the Minnesota lineup appeared probable Thursday as twenty-six Gophers, coaches and trainers departed for Cedar Rapids. The football squad will stop over there today and proceed to Iowa City Saturday morning. Captain Anderson is expected to be shifted from quarter back to half, with Peter Demler calling the signals from quarter. Ekberg may be at full back. Jack O'Brien appears the best full back. Anderson is left and while the rest of the lineup will be the same as in the Wisconsin game. A light signal drill on a frozen field finished the practice Thursday afternoon.

PRINCETON, N. J. — Only a light workout was ordered for the Princeton Varsity football squad today in preparation for the annual gridiron battle with Yale tomorrow. The team was sent thru its last hard signal drill of the season yesterday and at its conclusion Coach Pittsford, the Princeton trainer, said every man was in excellent condition. Neither he nor any of the coaches, he is willing, however, to make predictions as to the outcome of the game.

The athletic authorities are making preparations for one of the greatest crowds ever attending a football game here. Seats have been provided for 22,000 spectators. The Yale squad was expected to arrive late today.

YALE MEETS OLD RIVAL SATURDAY

(By Henry L. Farrell)
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK — "Mick Against Mick," or the "Foul of the Callahans," offers the attraction of a football game of the 1929 football season Saturday.

Not that Yale and Princeton will exhibit better football in the end of the "big three" battles, but the fact of the Ell gridiron against the Tiger is an established spectacle and an annual feature of years standing.

One of three to two are being offered that the jungle Cats of Captain Mike Callahan will meet the blue-back warriors of his brother, Captain Tim.

GAMES OF INTEREST
There are other interesting points in the east-west and south-to-draw the eyes of the football world.

Three other undefeated teams in the east, two in the west, and the two leaders of the south have drawn assignments of varying sizes of jobs to keep their lead in the championship race.

Pittsburg seems to have the hardest task in the east, outside of Princeton, to beat Washington and Jefferson. The latter pulls a come-back like Penn and Syracuse last Saturday the Panthers may have trouble keeping their state title.

Tenn State, already claiming the eastern champion, is not hoisting a soft task against Lehigh, but the Beekem men are not worried.

HARVARD PLAYS BROWN
Harvard likewise may not have the chance to give many of the Crimson players an off day against Brown, remembering Yale's experience of last Saturday.

Penn, since last week's return to form, has a chance to reduce the swelling in Dartmouth's chest, arising after last week's victory over Cornell.

Columbia and Cornell meet in an interesting game while the Army, Navy and Syracuse have an easy task ahead.

Notre Dame, leading the western race by a popular verdict, meets Indiana in a game that has all the appearance of a walkaway for the South Bend speed merchants.

ILLINI AT WISCONSIN
Illinois, contender with Ohio State for the western conference championship, may have trouble with Wisconsin, under Zuppke's clever show, better form than last week against Chicago.

The premier attraction of the south will be the Georgia Tech-Georgia game. Both teams have a record on their record, but both have powerful elements.

Centre College meets Kentucky State. It should be easy for the "Praying" Colonels.

OHIO STATE HAS NO GAME FOR SATURDAY

COLUMBUS. — Ohio State University's football team which will play the University of Illinois at Champaign Nov. 20 to decide the championship of the Western conference, has no game scheduled for Saturday, Nov. 13.

Coach Wiley will use the intervening two weeks in getting his team in physical shape for the important Illinois game, and in developing new plays.

Both Illinois and Ohio State have gone thru the season so far undefeated, and the contest to settle the championship is expected to be a battle royal. These two eleven battled last year for the championship. Illinois winning over Ohio State in the last minute of play.

Each team has shown unusual speed this season. Each has had a hard conference schedule. Coach Wiley only once this season has had to use every play at his command to win. That was during the Wisconsin game, when up to the last minute of play the Wisconsin players were ahead.

Hoge Workman, fast backfield player on the Buckeye eleven, who was injured in last Saturday's game here with Michigan, is expected to be back in the lineup for the Illinois game. One of Workman's eyes was severely injured in a scrimmage and he was forced to retire from the game.

So far this season, Ohio State has defeated Purdue, Wisconsin, Chicago and Michigan. The Illinois game will complete the Buckeye schedule.

GRACE TACKLES H. S. QUINTET TONIGHT

The Grace M. E. basketball quintet which defeated the Spencerville high school five here last Wednesday night, will play the Lafayette high school team here tonight at the Grace gym, W. Kibbey st.

Many tickets have been sold for the game. Grace has a good team this year and the game tonight is expected to be a good one.

STAGG'S TEAM LEAVES FOR ANN ARBOR

CHICAGO.—The University of Chicago football team, thirty more or less strong, will depart for Ann Arbor this morning on the Wolverine, where the remains of Coach Stagg's machine will meet Michigan tomorrow. The Maroons are due to arrive early in the afternoon in time for a light workout on Ferry field.

A long signal drill in the bitter cold and a session in the gymnasium watching the freshman team run thru Michigan plays was the program yesterday, and it was a welcome treat to the Maroons, who are probably the most battered bunch of athletes that ever represented Chicago in a football game.

WELL FOUGHT AT START
Stagg started the season with two quarterbacks, four fullbacks, six halfbacks, and four ends, all of whom were considered of first string quality. He has left for tomorrow one quarterback and two halfbacks, one fullback and one end, who are really fit to go into a battle as strong as the Michigan game is sure to be, and if these men do not survive, nobody on the Midway knows what he is going to do.

The line from tackle to tackle has only one cripple, Rothman, but all of the ends, except Strohmeyer, are all right.

BACKFIELD LINEUP
It is probable the backfield will start with Targe at quarter, Rouse and Palmer at the halves, and the muddled Purdue at fullback. House, Hinkle, Bellamy, McGuire, and Targe would be saved for the Wisconsin game. If they were not needed, but there is no alternative this week. Cole, Henschel, Rodman, and Neff the first two in player cuts, and he second pair on crutches, will go as spectators.

The undefeated Defiance eleven are coming to Lima Saturday for a game with the Lima Signals at the Murphy-st ball park. The game will be a good one. Defiance was to have played here, but a previously arranged game kept them from filling the engagement here.

INDIANA
BLOOMINGTON, Ind. — After a light signal drill the Indiana team was warned Thursday afternoon, which means that preparation for Notre Dame Saturday is virtually finished. Today some of the members of the squad will leave with Head Coach Stelm for Indianapolis, but most of them will wait for the regular season Saturday. Sigma will make a talk tomorrow night before the alumni banquet at the capital city.

PLAYERS ARE HURT; AUTO IS UPSET

(By Bill Cunningham)

A Ford runabout, in which three of Central's best football players were riding, turned over last night at the corner of Baxter and High.

The accident was unavoidable. The players were Laughlin, end; Taylor, full back, and Dille, tackle. Laughlin and Taylor escaped with no injuries but Dille, who jumped from the car, was pinned beneath it. His legs were hurt and it is doubtful whether he will be able to play in the game against Kenton tomorrow. His absence will be missed as he has proven himself an expert tackler and blocker. He will leave a hole in the Central line that will be hard for Coach Detrick to fill.

Central has hit some eleventh hour bad luck for their game tomorrow. On Friday it was found that Hunter, star end, is likely to be ineligible for Saturday's game. At practice Thursday night, Rotoff twisted his leg and will not be able to start the game, the he can probably play if he is needed.

Central will fight, as usual however, to the last minute and according to Coach Detrick will use open work almost completely. Douglass will play end Saturday if Hunter's ineligibility is not fixed up. He plays a good game at this position, but Hunter, having held the position all season, can probably show up better in a game.

SMALL PRACTICE
Practice was hampered Thursday night by several of the best players having to take part in the Armistice celebration.

Woodcock is showing up good on the second team and Collis Young was making a name for himself until he was injured a few days ago. Young will be back in uniform Monday and if these two fellows keep up their good work they will probably get in one of the last two games this season.

South Ill. after practicing hard all week have decided to play exclusively a defensive game against Postoria Saturday. They will play their hardest, but Coach Jackson is not going to risk having some of his best men hurt as he wants all his men for the Bowling Green and Central games as South have a much smaller chance of winning these games than the one against Postoria. The students are optimistic about the end of the season as they are confident that they will win two games out of the three.

Both teams, Central and South, will use the same line-up as they did in their last game in all probability. Barrington will be the one sure change in the South line up as he will play center in place of Miller who was forced to quit the game with a broken collar bone. Barrington is holding down this position like an expert and there will be no weakening in the South line due to the change.

DEFIANCE PLAYS SIGNALS HERE
The undefeated Defiance eleven are coming to Lima Saturday for a game with the Lima Signals at the Murphy-st ball park. The game will be a good one. Defiance was to have played here, but a previously arranged game kept them from filling the engagement here.

"I'LL WHIP RED CAP", M'HENRY SAYS IN RECENT LETTER

"I'll whip Red Cap Wilson this time if I die trying," Harry (Happy) McHenry said in a letter received by Bill Gallant, American Legion fight promoter, Thursday.

This is the spirit of the Hoosier youth and the Italian is just as bound to repeat his whipping as hands to the Hoosier here at the last Legion bout.

With both fighters in this frame of mind, local fans are more than likely to see one of the hardest scraps Monday that has been staged in Lima for several years.

Neither of the two boys are what one might term a "dirty" fighter. They play the game square and pounce onto each other with all their force from the clasp of the first gong. They will weigh in at 133 pounds. McHenry is just a trifle taller than the New Yorker.

Hard blows seem to fail to affect Red Cap as several administered by "Happy" in their last fight merely made the Italian fight harder and put a more realistic grin on his face.

You couldn't tell that either was a battler. They have not the characteristics of a pug. Instead, both are clean-cut looking chaps and show real sportsmanship.

A lucky blow in the last 15 seconds of their scheduled ten round bout here the last fight, is all that kept the bout from being declared a good draw. McHenry was then floored for the count.

Tickets have been placed on sale and advance reports indicate that a larger crowd will be on hand this time than at the previous carnival.

The Legion is deserving of support and all true sportsmen, wishing to see a good fight, will not be disappointed Monday.

MOTHER TO SEE SONS BATTLE AS RIVALS
LAWRENCE, Mass. — The struggle of the brothers Callahan, "Mike" of Princeton, and "Tim" of Yale, as the captains and opposing centers of the two varsity eleven when they meet in the Palmer stadium at Princeton, N. J., next Saturday, will have as a witness again their mother, Mrs. Mary E. Callahan of this city.

With Miss Eunice Callahan, 19 year old sister of the rival leaders, Mrs. Callahan said today she would leave for Princeton on Friday to attend the game.

"I shall sit on the Princeton side of the field this year," the mother said, explaining that she sat on the Yale side as the guest of Captain "Tim" last year at the Yale Bowl when his team went down to defeat before the Princeton Tigers, and he and his brother "Mike" came to grips at Center with honors for both. Mrs. Callahan added, however, that "of course I may go over to the Yale side of the field before the game is over."

BOILERMAKER AS A SPEAKER

Jim Osborne Addresses Commerce Chamber Dinner Party

Despite the fact that he is a boilermaker and not a public speaker, Jim Osborne, speaking in the place of Sherman Rogers, editor of the Outlook, drove his words home and riveted the attention of his audience Thursday night at the Armistice Day dinner of the Chamber of Commerce in the Central high school cafeteria. Two years ago, Jim "boop" boxed for a radical union element in Seattle, Wash., and took part in the big western fight between capital and labor, defending the boilermakers in all control.

He told in an interesting way how the crew of men that had gathered at Seattle from all parts of the United States, had formed plans to get control of the city, of the cowardice of the Mayor in refusing to call the state militia. "We were never in our lives told by you people that we were doing wrong. You never showed us our failings and how could you expect that we should not believe that strikes are the only help for labor?" "How many of you are willing to spread the truth and create friendship between capital and labor," he asked, "demanding that men break the ice and get together. We must show laborers that employers are not robbers, but just decent men anxious to help and be helped." Intwined in his speech, Jim told several mirth provoking stories and at all times he commanded the interest of his audience. Mr. Osborne, was a Harry White, Chicago, international secretary of the Y M C A and regional director of foreign work, who spoke of industrial conditions in Asia. Mr. White, altho a young man, is a forceful speaker. He has been traveling thru the Near East for the past five years and is an authority on what those countries are doing and what they need to help them industrially and economically. Speaking of the millions of people in India who only have about one hundred words in their vocabulary, he told how eager the men are to secure an education and how anxious they are that the younger men of their nation be trained more thoroughly than they have been. "However," Mr. White said, "they are averse to educating their girls. Natives believe that educated women do not make good wives, but they are beginning to see in a clearer light and many are offering their daughters educational advantages. After the speaking, tables and chairs were cleared from the floor and men and women danced. George Bayly, president of the Chamber of Commerce, acted as toastmaster. If the supreme council of the league of nations wants to take a vacation, why not leave Madame Quila on the job?

NEW YORK—Gains outnumbered losses at the opening of Friday's trading on the stock exchange, short covering resulting from the moderate rally in foreign exchange and prospects of easier money conditions. Within the first half hour, however, a sharp reversal occurred, pressure proving especially effective in the equipment, steel and shipping groups. American Car, General Electric and Bethlehem Steel fell two points each. Atlantic Gulf reacted 1 3/4 points and American International lost one point. Early gains in Mexican and Pan-American Petroleum and some of the investment rails were forfeited and food and tobacco issues featured the heavy specialties.

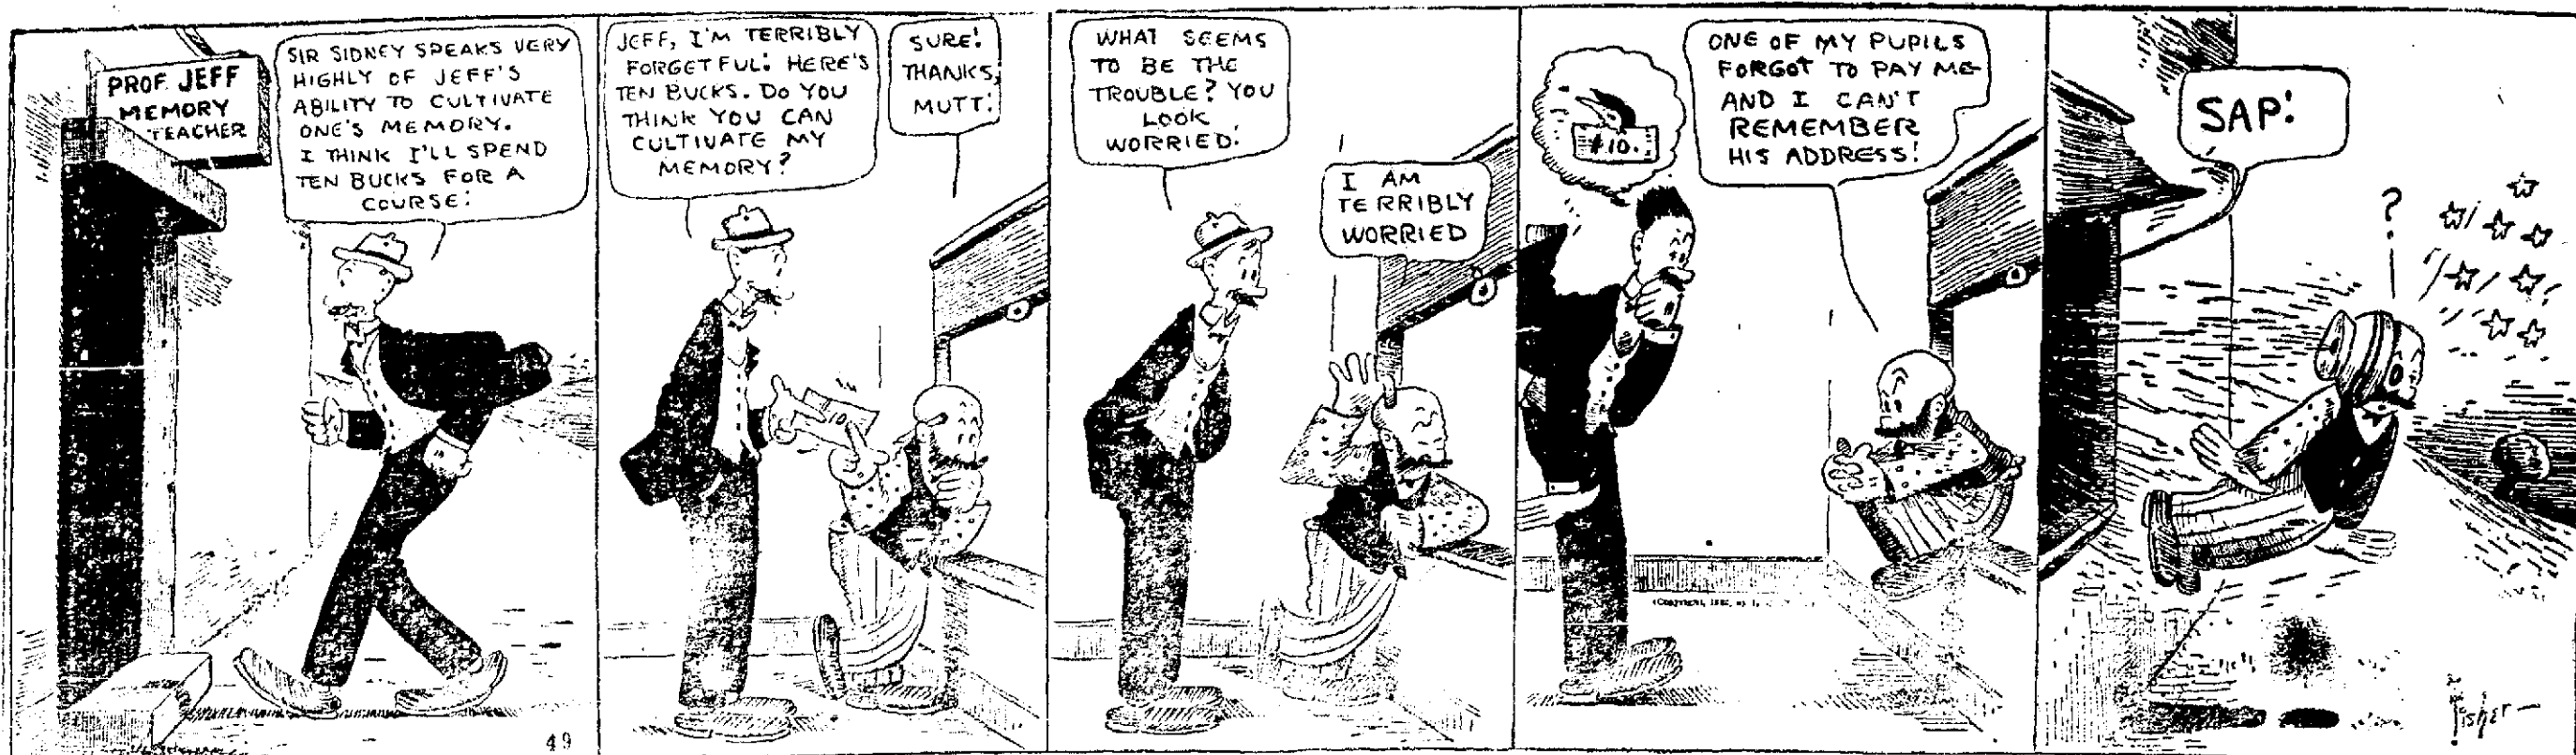

The market became more reactionary during the morning as stocks uncovered new features of weakness. Leather and rubber shares were under persistent pressure. Hide and leather preferred and Endicott Johnson breaking 3 1/2 and 5 points respectively, and United States Rubber dropped 2 points. Atlantic Gulf increased its loss to four points. Royal Dutch and the Mexican oils became irregular and sugars continued to weaken. Temporary rallies were led by investment rails but the cheaper or speculative (transportation) wear heavy, notably New Haven. Fresh selling of bonds was attributed to disappointment in the 9 per cent opening and renewal rate for call money after yesterday's closing price of 7 per cent.

The severe break in Willys-Overland stocks came immediately upon the heels of the report that the Willys-Overland Company was in the market for a loan of $30,000,000. The interpretation placed upon this was that it confirmed recent rumors that the Willys concern has a burdensome financial record. After the $12,000,000 obtained last spring by the sale of new stock to a syndicate would have done something toward supplying these wants. But the efforts to obtain another $30,000,000 shows the street that the proceeds of the stock sale were wholly insufficient. The syndicate underwrote the new shares at a par of $25 less a 5 per cent commission, making the net price $20. This was the same stock which sold down to seven on today and has seen no opportunity at any time to have distributed this stock except at a loss.

BRINGING UP FATHER—

By McMANUS

SHORT SHAVINGS

"You naughty child, where have you been?" demanded a Baltimore mother of her hopeful, "I believe you have been fighting with with John, next door. Just look at your clothes? I'll have to buy you a new suit!"

"Don't scold me, ma," responded the youngster. "You ought to see Johnny! This mother'll have to buy a new boy!"

Stenly the prosecuting counsel cross-examined the witness for the defense. At last the latter got so confused that instead of replying audibly to one question he nodded his head.

Whereupon the counsel demanded sternly:

"Why don't you answer the question?" "I did answer it," the witness retorted. "I nodded my head."

"Yes," was the retort. "I heard it rattle, but could not tell whether it was up and down or from side to side."

"It came to the inside to hear the broken record."

"But there is a noise that drowns that out."

"What is it?"

"The roar of my husband when he hawls me out for big bills."

"I simply can't understand the combination of my wife's clothes."

"What puzzles you?"

"Well, when she wants to hide anything, she pokes it down her neck, but when she wants to get it again it's always in her stocking."
